BCE Loses First Rounds In Court

VANCOUVER (CP)—The British Columbia Power Corporation won more preliminary skirmishes today in pretrial issues arising from its court case against expropriation of the B.C. Electric Company.

The court dismissed three BCE appeals against Supreme Court decisions affecting the case.

WOMAN KILLED NEAR NANAIMO

NANAIMO (CP)—A woman died and her husband was critically injured today when their car smashed into the rear end of a cement truck parked on the Island Highway, five miles north of here.

Dead is Mrs. Oliver West of Qualicum Beach. Her husband was driver of the car.

An army truck, driven by Pte. G. D. Gould of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, ploughed over a 40-foot embankment when the driver sought to avoid the accident. He was unhurt.

Rival Union Under Attack By Mine, Mill

TORONTO (CP)—Disruptive practices personified by the United Steelworkers of America threaten organized labor in North America, International President John Clark of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers said today.

Steel and other large unions are showing a progressive decline in membership, Mr. Clark told the opening session of the Mine-Mill convention, coupling a bitter attack on Steel with a defence of his own union.

About 200 representatives of the Canadian and United States membership are meeting in the 37th convention—first in Canada. Mine-Mill claims about 100,000 members in the two countries.

BITTER RIVALS

The union is meeting against a background of intense rivalry in Canada with the Steelworkers who have launched a bid at Sudbury, Ont., the union's largest local, to assume jurisdiction.

Mine-Mill was ousted from the old Congress of Industrial Organizations in the U.S. on grounds of being Communist-dominated and from the old Canadian Congress of Labor on a jurisdictional issue.

French Catch Secret Army's No. 2 Man

(Times News Services)

ALGIERS—France dealt a severe blow to the die-hard advocates of the "French Algeria" today with the announcement that the number two man of the Secret Army Organization had been arrested in Oran.

The capture Sunday of Edmond Jouhaud, 56-year-old former air force general, was announced only after he was safely inside the gates of Sante prison in Paris. The secret army made a last-minute attempt to free him by attacking the barracks in Oran where he was first held.

Jouhaud was believed to have spent most of his time in Oran, a hotbed of "French Algeria" sentiment, since the abortive military coup in Algiers in April, 1961.

Jouhaud was sentenced to death in absentia last summer for his part in the coup. Also sentenced to death for the plot was former General Raoul Salan, leader of the Secret Army and still at large somewhere in Algeria.

The Secret Army is bitterly opposed to independence for Algeria. Since the Franco-Algerian agreement ending the seven-year Moslem insurrection March 18 it has waged a fanatical terrorist campaign to prevent the accord leading to independence.

Police said Jouhaud was arrested along with three men and a woman. Shortly afterwards all were flown to Paris, where they were taken to the Sante Prison.

A French spokesman announced that Jouhaud and his staff were captured during a 10-hour battle that raged through the heart of Oran, Algeria's second city in western Algeria.

'Hull Won't Be Last To Score 50'

See page 12.

MONTREAL (CP)—Maurice (Rocket) Richard, retired Montreal Canadiens' great, said today he is convinced Chicago's Bobby Hull won't be the last player to score at least 50 goals in a National Hockey League season.

"One of these years, somebody may get as many as 55," Richard said. "But I doubt if it'll be possible to do better than that."

Richard was the first man to ever score 50 goals in a season—doing so in 1944-45 during a 50-game season. Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion, also of Canadiens, equalled the feat in 1960-61 and Hull got his 50th goal in Chicago's final game of the 1961-62 schedule which ended Sunday night. Geoffrion and Hull both played in 70-game seasons.

Richard said he has but one wish—that his 50-goal mark in as many games always remains in the league's record books. "Hull is the type of an athlete who could break many records," Richard added. "He possesses everything—physique, skating ability, shot and hockey instinct."

Geoffrion said: "You have to have a good streak and a lot of luck to get that many goals. I don't think it will happen again, not for a long time anyway."

Body Found In Avalanche

SEATTLE (AP)—Searchers today found the body of one of two Seattle mountain climbers engulfed in an avalanche Sunday near the top of 5,800-foot Granite Mountain 50 miles east of here.

Deputy sheriffs radioed from the scene they were unable to make an immediate identification.

The avalanche, which swept down nearly 520 feet in a deep snowfield, caught Donald Le Beau 29, a large supervisor at the university of Washington hospital, and Dr. Charles B. Andrews, 35, orthopedic surgeon.

Both were experienced mountaineers.

Chopping Task For Aldermen

BY JOHN MIKA

Times-City Hall Reporter

A potential tax increase of 10 mills resulting from proposed expenditure increases of almost $1,000,000 faced City Council.

A big chunk of the increase is expected to survive although aldermen will chop frantically at the budget estimates and probably receive some help by a few offsetting revenue increases.

An initial summary of 1962 estimates presented by city comptroller James Bramley as the preliminary chopping began suggested an almost 20 per cent boost in last year's 53.4 mill rate.

Size of the possible increase is almost double the usual starting point for the annual assessment down $1.9 million

The drop in value of the mill is one of the reasons for the potential increase, resulting from the new provincial assessment formula which saw the city's taxable assessment tumble by $1,997,000.

Most of the assessment cut-back was caused by government exemption of B.C. Electric property, B.C. Toll Highway's Authority acquisitions and the B.C. Hydro holdings.

Depending on the size of still unrevealed government grants for B.C. Electric property, the city's cash loss from the assessment drop will range between $25,000 and $129,000.

"So our budget work begins with a big question mark," Mr. Bramley informed finance committee.

Other big items added to the budget estimates are: $129,000 to cover wage increases agreed to by council last week; $100,000 to start off the urban renewal program for north Blanshard Street; $70,000 for a new No. 2 firehall; and $50,000 for the centennial celebration.

Only about $25,000 to $50,000 is expected to be added this year to the 1961 school budget of $2,015,000, representing a fractional increase in the school mill rate of 18.6.

Almost all of any final increase will fall on the general purpose rate which was struck at 34.8 mills last year.

Total increase in the "ordinary" section of the budget—covering primarily maintenance accounts—will be about $263,340 including the $120,000 wage boost.

Bulk of the proposed increases fall within the $995,830 "special" section of the budget—covering new work and services.

Here's where most of the chopping will be done. Last year, council cut back a large proposed program and voted only $408,044 for new projects.

However, this year it will have a harder time trimming the special section because it includes, besides new items already mentioned, a total of $157,946 in grants (mainly for hospital, college and senior citizen building funds), and various off-delayed public works.

A fierce onslaught is expected.

Special Douk Jail Set Near Agassiz

By VICTOR J. MACKIE

Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA—Justice Minister Fulton announced today a maximum security institution for members of the Sons of Freedom sect who are now being sentenced to federal penitentiary will be established in the Fraser Valley near Agassiz in British Columbia.

Mr. Fulton said the institution is to be located on a section of property away from main roads and populated areas.

The institution will have a high wire fence and will be operated on a maximum security basis. Segregated accommodation will be provided for both men and women.

"I would like to stress that it would be unwise if not dangerous to place the Sons of Freedom in the various federal institutions across Canada at this time," he said.

"At present the maximum security penitentiaries are still overcrowded and the introduction of these people who refuse to accept training or treatment facilities and who will not accept institutional routine, would greatly hamper the existing penal reform program."

Mr. Fulton said that when the overcrowding at maximum security institutions is alleviated

Trapped in Waterfront Building

Jouhaud and his staff were trapped in a building on the waterfront that had been under surveillance for some time. The house had been searched previously but without success.

The captives were transferred to a gendarmerie barracks. Minutes later a strong Secret Army commando group attacked the barracks. The French forces repelled the attack. One gendarme officer was killed and 18 gendarmes were wounded in the fighting.

Officials said Jouhaud was arrested Sunday about 4 p.m. It was not until about 10:30 p.m. that the police realized how big a catch they had made and his identification verified.

In addition to false papers in the name of Gerberd, Jouhaud had a moustache, a false beard, and was wearing civilian clothes. At the moment of the arrest, Jouhaud was in a meeting with 16 other persons. About 10 of them were taken to the police headquarters. Only five were flown to Paris.

Gromyko, Rusk Meet In New Try

GENEVA (AP)—State Secretary Dean Rusk of the U.S. conferred today with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in another attempt to keep the East-West disagreement on Berlin from deepening.

Their conference, in the privacy of the Soviet villa, took place on the eve of Rusk's scheduled return to Washington.

It occurred in an atmosphere of deadlock. The only known new proposal before them was Gromyko's plan for a vague international watch on the land, air and water corridors linking isolated West Berlin with West Germany 110 miles away.

In its present form that proposal is unacceptable to Rusk. Today's meeting of the disarmament conference was put back until Tuesday because of the sudden death during the weekend of T. G. Narayanan, a United Nations official from India.

Canadian Cabinet Briefed By Heath on ECM Standing

By VICTOR J. MACKIE

Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA—September is reported to be the month proposed to be the month for holding a prime ministers' commonwealth conference on Britain's entry into the Common Market.

Edward Heath, British deputy foreign secretary conferred for one hour and a half with Prime Minister John Diefenbaker today, half an hour longer than scheduled. It is understood that Mr. Diefenbaker again put forward the case for a prime ministers' commonwealth conference, and heard the suggestion that September would be the most suitable period for such a meeting.

INVALUABLE

The negotiations at Brussels were thoroughly reviewed with Mr. Heath by a special committee of the Canadian cabinet later in a two-hour meeting under the chairmanship of the Finance Minister Fleming. Trade Minister George Hees was at the meeting along with Agriculture Minister Alvin Hamilton who is recovering from a severe bout of illness.

Mr. Fleming said the briefings by Mr. Heath had been "invaluable." He pointed out that they gave the government first-hand impressions and Mr. Heath's assessment of how the talks at Brussels had been going and the prospects for progress towards Britain ultimately joining the Common Market.

Mr. Heath said the talks at Brussels "are gaining momentum," he indicated that important decisions would be reached after May 8.

When Mr. Heath emerged from the talks with the Prime Minister he said, "the Prime Minister ended our talks by declaring we have had a very good discussion, and with that comment I thoroughly agree."

Mr. Diefenbaker told reporters he had "no comment" to make.

Mebbe we'd lend th' RCMP t' th' Algerians t' clean up their problem too.

Guess there's a little Doukhobor in all of us when they start puttin' taxes up.

Centennial Flashback...

THIS DAY IN VICTORIA - 1862

MARCH 26

Wagon roads, those symbols of progress, are drawing much attention. A contract for $88,000 was today awarded Thomas Spence for a road from Boston Bar to Lytton City. Messrs. G. & B. Wright and company have already started work on a road from Lillooet to Mud Lake.

The latter firm is seeking up to 500 workmen, who will be hired for not less than two months, and paid in cash on the road at the end of their term of employment.

The Lyceum Theatre has been purchased by the proprietors of the French Hotel. The new owners announced today the place will be made over into a billiard saloon.

Work was completed today on cutting back the old post office building so it will no longer interfere with pedestrians using the west sidewalk on Government Street.

At this point he was three under par, and would score a 68 should the putt, about 12 feet, drop.

Back of the green behind Dick — where he couldn't see — a pretty young woman in black jacket, boots, and slacks turned her back to the green and looked across the road — not watching the putt.

She only turned when the crowd "ooohed" as the putt just lipped the cup.

Her name — Wendy Munn, Dick's wife.

"I'm just too scared to watch," she said, "especially when he can win the round."

HERE'S THE ANSWER TO BRIDGE PROBLEM

For the bridge aficionados here's the answer to the problem concocted by Keith Stapleton, 70 Cambridge.

The hand, printed Saturday, follows:

NORTH
♠	Q 9 7 5
♥	Q 9 6
♦	Q 10 5 4
♣	A Q
♥	8 5 2
♦	9 8 7 6
EAST
♠	J 10 3 2
♥	10
♦	K J 3 2
SOUTH
♥	A K J 10 3

The bid is seven hearts. South is the declarer. West opens the two of hearts.

Following is the play at each trick:

- (1) West opens with the 2 of hearts. North takes with the Q, and east plays his single 10. South covers with the 7.
- (2) North leads the 9 of spades. East goes up with the J. South takes with the ace, and West plays his singleton 8.
- (3) South leads the ace of diamonds. West plays the 6. North the 4, and East the 3.
- (4) South leads the 4 of hearts, taking the trick in dummy with whichever heart is necessary, and East shifts the 4 of clubs.
- (5) North leads the Q of diamonds, forcing East to lay down his K. South ruffs with the J of hearts, and West plays the 10.
- (6) South leads the 3 of hearts, forcing West to release his remaining trump, which dummy takes, and East shifts another small club.
- (7) North leads the 7 of spades. East plays the 10 and South takes the trick with his K, leaving West to shift a small club.
- (8) South leads the king of hearts. West discards another small club, giving North the opportunity to get rid of the queen of clubs. East would probably shift a small spade.
- (9) South leads the 8 of spades to dummy's queen, with West throwing away another club, and East playing his last spade.
- (10) North then leads the 4 of spades, which is good.
- (11) To (12): Here is where a good deal of concentration is needed. Dummy's next lead must be controlled by the cards discarded by East and West on the 10th trick. For example: if both East and West discarded diamonds, he "would then" lead a diamond to the ace of trumps, come back with a small club, to the ace of clubs and then claim the final diamond trick. However should East and West both discard clubs he would then play the ace of clubs, and then a diamond to the ace of hearts, leaving his remaining club good for the final trick. Should however, East discard a diamond and West a club or vice-versa he leads either the 3 or the 10 of diamonds depending on which is necessary to force the jack from east's hand and the outcome is the same.

Canadian Railway Strike Averted

MONTREAL (CP) — A walk-out against the CNR and the CPR was averted early today when the railways and their 4,500 engineers reached agreement on new labor contracts.

The agreement, one week before the strike was to start, was announced by railway and union negotiators after 23 hours of weekend bargaining.

Details of the agreement were promised later. It was reported, however, to have included acceptance by the independent union of a 6 1/2-per cent wage increase recommended on both carriers by federal conciliation boards and implemented by the railways Jan. 1.

The union had set Monday, April 2, as the strike deadline against the Crown-owned CNR and April 3 for the walkout on the privately owned CPR.

Mr. Travers and the railway presidents—Donald Gordon of the CNR and N. R. Crump of the CPR—expressed satisfaction with the agreement.

HAVE OTHER TROUBLES Both railways still are trying to negotiate new contracts with their trainmen, as well as awaiting conciliation with their 110,000 non-operating employees.

The CPR also is in conciliation with its Firemen's Unions, although the CNR signed a contract with that group March 6.

SAVAGE DOGS KILLED ON TRISTAN DE CUNHA

LONDON (Reuters)—The household dogs left behind on volcano-ravaged Tristan da Cunha quickly turned into savage killers, a Royal Society expedition to the remote island reported today.

The 15 dogs abandoned last October by the 262 departing islanders apparently killed about 700 sheep, the scientists said.

Hunting in packs of five, the dogs drove sheep over cliffs and gulches into the sea. They also killed newly-born calves and attacked smaller calves of the herd.

"Although regrettable, it was considered necessary to destroy the dogs, and all have been shot," the scientists said in a report to London.

shots from snipers holed up in nearby buildings.

The police were lined up shoulder to shoulder across the street in the path of the advancing crowd of demonstrators.

WOMEN FALL SCREAMING

The crowd included many women who fell screaming under the hail of bullets.

The police fired an initial volley over the heads of the demonstrators but the second cut right through their ranks.

The volley sent demonstrators dashing for safety up side streets.

Europeans returned the police fire with a hail of sniper fire from balconies and rooftops.

The demonstration was staged in response to a call from the Secret Army Organization for a mass protest against the blockading of suburban Bab-el-Queid, a terrorist stronghold.

Gunfire also rattled over the heads of thousands of French settlers assembled on the Algiers waterfront.

TAKE UP POSITIONS

Steel-helmeted French troops took up positions in the heart of the city with orders to bar the passage of crowds.

Minutes after the firing started, a crowd of several hundred settlers still occupied the waterfront boulevard waving French flags.

A paralyzing general strike gripped Algiers shortly after the settlers began to mass.

The centre of the city around the monument to the war dead was sealed off by trucks and armored cars. French infantrymen deployed along the streets.

Ten minutes after the shooting started on Boulevard Carnot, several hundred riot police entered the area and pushed the demonstrating Europeans into the adjacent small streets. Helicopters hovered over the city and ambulances sped through streets.

Combine Evidence Made Available

OTTAWA (CP) — The supreme court of Canada ruled today that the restrictive trade-practices commission has power to make available to interested parties documents or evidence seized or obtained during investigations into alleged combines.

The court made the ruling in a 5-to-4 judgment rejecting an appeal by eight British Columbia fishing companies and 14 executives of fishing companies for an injunction to prohibit the commission from turning over evidence or documents to anyone outside the justice department.

Accidents Kill Four On Mainland

From CP Dispatches

VANCOUVER — A young soldier on leave and a teenage girl were killed Sunday when their small foreign car collided with another vehicle which crossed the centre line into their path on the upper levels highway in North Vancouver.

Dead are John Dennison, 20, of North Vancouver, a soldier at the Esquimalt army base, and Joanne Bietrich, 16, of North Vancouver.

A third occupant of the car, Charles Thomas Mishaud, 21, of North Vancouver, was in critical condition in hospital.

CAR OVER BANK

HANEY—Garry Louis Stamina, of HMCS Aldergrove in nearby Matsqui, was killed on Sunday when his car left the Lougheed Highway on a curve and crashed over a bank five miles south of here.

A passenger, George Zmurek, 19, of Abbotsford, was taken to hospital with internal injuries.

PARENTS CHIDED

VERNON — Warden Hugh Christie of Oakalla prison, said Saturday night parents and the rapid disappearance of the "old fashioned big family and religion" are to blame for juvenile delinquency that could cost British Columbians $3,000,000 next year.

He said parents are placing more temptations before their children and not providing the necessary wealth of recreational activity to command their interests.

Mr. Christie, who has served at the Burnaby prison for 10 years, said every adult should be making contact with young persons through various youth organizations.

LITTLE BITTERNESS

NELSON — "No meeting today. Everybody in jail. How can you have a meeting if everybody is in jail?"

The obvious over-exaggeration by a member of the Sons of Freedom Doukhobor sect, which was greeted by the moderate laughter of his friends, seemed to typify the reaction of the sect to the mass arrest of their leaders during the weekend.

A reporter who toured the Freedomite capital of Krestova and watched friends and relatives gather outside a jail in Nelson Sunday said he found little bitterness.

Film Company Sued

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Juliet Prowse, accusing 20th Century-Fox of breach of contract, is seeking $51,000 she claims has been improperly withheld by the movie studio. Miss Prowse says 20th Century hasn't honored two provisions in her contract. She said one calls for her services 40 weeks a year and the other permits her to appear in media other than movies.

IGNORES CALL TO RESIGN

Frondizi Forms New Cabinet

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—President Arturo Frondizi swore in a new cabinet today, the ninth day of Argentina's political crisis. Old and new cabinets applauded him as he manoeuvred to hold the reins of power in a struggle with military chiefs.

Army and air force secretaries were present at the swearing-in ceremony. The navy was represented by an under-secretary. The navy secretary quit Sunday.

Disregarding the storm cloud, Frondizi ignored demands that he resign and moved immediately with his new cabinet to work anew on his austerity development program for Argentina.

Guards at government house wore battle dress, machine-guns were mounted on the building, and security checks were tightened in the area.

The precautions were taken apparently to forestall a sudden coup by admirals and some army generals reported to be determined to get Frondizi out.

Maj. Gen. Pedro Aramburu, champion of democratic government and the country's military ruler after the ouster of dictator Juan Peron, enlisted the support of much of the army high command in stalling off a showdown after the navy publicly called on Frondizi to resign Sunday night.

Aramburu, hero of the revolt that overthrew Peron in 1955, pleaded for more time to work out a peace after warning the 21,000,000 Argentines in a radio-television broadcast "the republic is in danger."

The Peronists, whose provincial election victories drove Frondizi into a corner, appeared themselves pushed into the background of the milling crisis.

PROMISES REPORT

He promised to make a report to the country tonight on his peace-making efforts.

Frondizi, 54, has vowed he will never quit, but Aramburu emphasized that the armed forces could get rid of the president at will.

OAS Suffered Heavy Blow But 'Back Not Broken'

By ANDREW BOROWICZ

ALGIERS (AP) — The failure of the uprising in the Algiers suburb of Bab-el-Qued is a heavy blow to the European Secret Army Organization, but it has not broken its back.

The extremist right-wing underground—with its arms depots, accomplices in the French administration of the territory and its organization intact—continues to be a threat to the cease-fire in Algeria.

After the street fighting ended in Bab-el-Qued and troops moved in to clean up the defiant suburb, it appeared that this was not the kind of uprising that the Secret Army's command wanted at this time. Tracts issued Sunday night in Algiers and Oran said as much in condemning fratricidal combat.

The creation of an isolated resistance point appeared contrary to all directives issued by the terrorist group in the last few months. All spoke of "progressive mobilization" that would lead to an eventual "generalized war of liberation."

BLAME PHYSICIAN

The Bab-el-Qued uprising most likely was launched as an action by both heads swept up in the heady atmosphere of the explosive suburb. Informants say the instigator of the fighting was Dr. Jean-Claude Perez, a popular Bab-el-Qued physician who has had personal quarrels with Secret Army leaders.

The Secret Army now has the possibility of two courses of action:

1. Make an effort to survive the blow and continue underground resistance to block the installation of the new provisional government for Algeria and the self-determination referendum.

2. Speed up the mobilization of its supporters and try to inflame Algeria's cities to all-out general resistance.

The next few days should show what decision has been taken by former Gen. Raoul Salan and his advisers.

The bloody street-fighting in Bab-el-Qued was heavy in political and psychological setbacks for the rightist underground.

It destroyed the myth that French soldiers would not fire on Europeans shouting "Algeria is French!"

CONTINUE FIGHTING

The battle and its aftermath also shook the belief of some European settlers in the usefulness of resistance. Yet the majority of settlers appear to cling stubbornly to the idea of fighting until the bitter end.

They reject the promise of guarantees for their rights in an independent Algeria. No one pays any attention to speeches of French officials pleading for understanding and reason.

Pope Sends Peace Plea To Algiers

ALGIERS (Reuters) — Pope John has sent a telegram to the archbishop of Algiers appealing for an end to the "fratricidal battle" between French forces and right-wing extremists in Algeria.

In the telegram to Archbishop Leon Etienne Duval dated March 24, and published today, the pope said:

"The painful events which stain Algeria with blood taint the satisfaction we felt at the signing of the agreements announcing the long awaited peace (between the French and Moslem insurgents)."

"At the thought of the new grief striking the population of this land so dear to us, in which so many energies have happily been expended, we ask God to lead concord back into men's spirits."

"May their hearts open to the needs of conscience, and may fratricidal battle cease."

"Invoking divine mercy on all the victims, we send our fervently apostolic benediction to you, to the stricken families, and to all your children in God."

GREEK CYPRIOTS CLAIM

Turks Bomb Own Mosques

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Minister of the Interior Polycarpus Yiorgadjis, a Greek Cypriot, said today preliminary police reports indicated Turkish Cypriots themselves bombed two Turkish Mosques in Nicosia.

The bombs went off Sunday, the day Greece celebrates her freedom from Turkey, and leaders of the Turkish community immediately blamed Greek extremists.

There were no casualties. Five bombs in one mosque wrecked the minaret, or pulpit, and blew a hole halfway up the minaret. One bomb in the other mosque blew a small hole in the minaret.

Turks have had equal rights with the four times more numerous Greek population since this Mediterranean island gained independence from Britain. There is still tension, between the two groups, however.

Back to Brass Tacks

A DIPLOMATIC NOTE FROM Washington to Ottawa has reminded Canadians that the United States is not prepared to wait indefinitely for ratification of the Columbia River treaty which would provide shared benefits for the two countries.

Unless agreement can be reached, the note suggests, the United States may be forced to seek power through other means. This, presumably, would involve construction of thermal units and possibly more costly hydro installations in Pacific Northwest states.

The note repeats the point made last September when Mr. Davie Fulton, Canada's treaty negotiator, reported that the United States would wait only another five months before looking for another source of power.

There is an obvious elasticity in that original five months, already extended. But there must also be some limit to the stretch.

The fact is that the Americans need more power in the Pacific Northwest states. They naturally want to acquire it under the most favorable terms possible. At the same time, their negotiation of the treaty shows a willingness to give as well as take in any international arrangement.

The clauses in the treaty have been under severe criticism in certain parts of Canada. Some interests argue that it is a bad bargain for this country, a highly advantageous one for the United States. That case has not, however, been considered strong enough to block ratification. The treaty remains unratified because British Columbia and Canada disagree on the disposal of Canada's share of downstream benefits.

In the light of the American note some primary facts should be restated.

International development of the Columbia River is highly desirable because co-operation between the two countries promises to yield the most economic power available in this region. The Americans have equipment installed which can handle a greatly increased flow of water if the flow is controlled. In British Columbia are the sites for dams which can establish that control.

Better Late Than Never

THE PEOPLE OF BRITISH COLUMBIA—a good many Doukhobors included—are gratified at the progress being made by the RCMP in clearing up the Sons of Freedom problem. The many arrests and convictions, topped off last week by the wholesale arrest of the extremist sect's leaders, may well wipe out this nuisance once and for all.

The police have done excellent work in preparing cases and rounding up law-breakers. Some of these people have been burning and bombing for years and otherwise flouting the laws. The only wonder about the current campaign is that it had been so long delayed.

There had been action before—particularly the enforced schooling

Both British Columbia and the Northwest states face mounting power needs. Together they can provide a substantial amount of power at a minimum cost—our storage, their generation.

Downstream benefit power is particularly attractive to the United States, since it can be produced with little added expense from generating capacity already installed. Notwithstanding reports of Dr. Gordon Shrum and his colleagues, the returnable Canadian share of that power is considered cheap in comparison to what may be produced on the Peace.

No one suggests that British Columbia can presently absorb full production from both Peace and Columbia. The Bennett two-river policy stands or falls on permission to export the surplus which such a scheme would yield.

It matters very little to the United States where power is generated in British Columbia if it can be supplied to the American market at a price the United States is prepared to pay.

But Mr. Bennett has been able to acquire no firm contracts for the American purchase of power at the price he wants.

Against this background must be viewed the present confused situation which casts doubts on the possibility of proceeding with the Peace.

One favorable development has been reported. Mr. Bennett returned from his visit to Ottawa last week with the statement that meetings with federal authorities had been amicable. Some of the tension between the two governments seems to have been eased.

Under these circumstances the public will hope that progress may be made on the international treaty. If the note from Washington carries any message, it is that first things should be placed first. That means work toward harnessing the Columbia. The time will come when both Columbia and Peace power is required. That time is not yet.

Let's get on with the job started so hopefully by the International Joint Commission. Protracted delay could very easily result in independent action by the United States to find or create the "other" source of power, leaving Canada and British Columbia little to bargain with.

of Doukhobor children a few years ago—but nothing on the scale of the present law enforcement. Many years of non-retaliation must have convinced some of the Sons of Freedom that the government was powerless to act against them. Many of the law-abiding residents of the Kootenay must have thought the same.

But the government has now moved, the police are enforcing the laws, and there is a good prospect, if the campaign is carried vigorously to its proper conclusion, that the sect's nonsense will be finally ended.

On this British Columbians can congratulate themselves and all concerned—at long last.

Heads You Lose

MR. DIEFENBAKER'S ACTION in introducing a bill to set up an independent, non-political "electoral boundaries commission" is a needed preliminary to a general election. But it may have one of two meanings.

It may mean that the Prime Minister is determined to have federal seats redistributed in accordance with last year's census, so that the various parts of the country will have fair representation in the next election. Or it could mean that the whole problem may be lost in the machinery of the commission, not to emerge until the next election is all over.

The first effect would indicate Mr. Diefenbaker's wish to have everything in order for a possible autumn appeal to the voters. The second might reflect his reluctance to see some of the changes in the distribution of seats which inevitably would take place. On the population figures available, Quebec would lose one seat, and this could increase the province's disenchantment. Mr. Diefenbaker's home province would lose four seats—certainly an unpopular move.

On the other hand, the government could lose face if it appeared that attempts were being made to delay redistribution. It could be construed as an admission of weakness. In any case, the law does not specify any definite time in which redistribution must follow a census. It says merely "on the completion" of the census—and this could, if necessary, take years.

Blotting Out an Amenity

NOT MANY VICTORIANS will be personally affected by the Mayor of Brussels' decision to halt the upward growth of what was to be the tallest hotel in Europe.

The reason for his action may, however, have some influence on local thought. The mayor bowed to public complaint that the modern structure would mar the medieval flavor of Brussels' venerable old market square.

In other words, the towering hotel would change a district's character cherished by Belgians. The amenity that appealed to the people was an atmosphere of history and tradition.

In Victoria the patina of age seldom represents historic value of wide appeal. But we do have some excellent scenery which can be destroyed. The lift and majesty of the Olympics across the Strait, seen beyond the end of a street for instance, has greater attraction for most Victorians than the bulk of a high-rise which cuts off that view.

WIDE-OPEN OPPORTUNITY

A Glimpse of the Promised Land

By B. A. TOBIN

THE scene is laid in a small cabin on a hill in the B.C. interior. Three or four children play on the floor, a couple of women move from stove to table preparing supper, and half a dozen men are seated in a corner working busily. They are cutting fuses, taping dynamite sticks, tinkering with clock-works and otherwise carrying on the traditional cottage industry of the people. This is the Kootenay Valley.

First Son: I hear they got Steve.
Second Son: Yeah.
Third Son: Yeah?
Fourth Son: Yeah?
Fifth Son: How'd they get him?
Sixth Son: That's bad. Steve was a good worker.
First Son: I hear they got Alex too.
Fifth Son: Alex too, eh?
Second Son: Yeah.
First Son: Was he doing ... you know ... anything?
Third Son: Yeah. He was praying.

Sixth Son: That's bad. Alex was a pretty good prayer.

Second Son: Yeah. There he was, standing there praying with the bundle of dynamite right in his hands.

Third Son: Yeah. They didn't even let him finish the prayer. Just took the match right out of his hand.

Fourth Son: Those police. I'd like to catch a bunch of them down a dark alley and pray for them.

Fifth Son: You just can't trust those people. I remember once I was working on the railroad. A bunch of them dashed up and I only just got away. Had to leave everything lying there unconnected too.

First Son: Yeah. Once I was working over near the canyon bridge. Before I could get the work even half done some snooping police came along and I had to leave.

Third Son: I was praying with my two young daughters only a couple months ago. It was near a power pole with a transformer on it. We'd hardly begun praying when a policeman stopped his car and yelled "What are you doing with that black box?" We had to drop it and get out of there. I'd spent a whole evening on that box too.

Second Son: It isn't like the old days. It used to be you'd never see a policeman around here for months on end. Just farmers and such, and they couldn't do anything.

Fourth Son: I don't know what we're coming to. Steve gone, Alex gone, all the boys up at the north end gone, and over beyond the forks—all gone.

Sixth Son: They'll be coming after us next.

First Son: Yeah, us. Just peaceful folk working and praying.

Fifth Son: I don't know how we're going to carry on the work.

First Son: Well, I've got a plan. We may have to change our type of work, but it'll still be fun.

Second Son: What's that?

Third Son: How do you mean?

First Son: We'll move out of these hills to another place. We'll move into a new setup where we can yell and shout and call people names, make libellous attacks, be big nuisances and make maybe even more trouble than we have up here.

All: Say, that sounds good. Where can we do all those things and not get stopped? Where can we make as much trouble as we like and nobody can stop us?

First Son: I'll tell you, boys. And we should have thought of it years ago. We'll get ourselves elected to the legislature.

'Cracking the Whip'

One of the most pitiful (of many) aspects of the present parliamentary sessions is the fact that none of the government members have the guts to stand up and protest when their masters "crack the whip."

But it remains to be seen whether their constituents in the next provincial general election (which the boss does not seem eager to hold) will approve of their spinelessness.

Youth Festival

I read with considerable interest the story of March 10, 1962, under the heading Youth Festival Defended by Toronto Visitor, in which Mr. Tom Jala accused the National Federation of Canadian University Students of "disinterest in the promotion of understanding between East and West."

The students' councils of Canada's universities—through their Federation—have for many years made a sincere and determined effort to achieve understanding and co-operation among the students of all nations. Our good faith in this endeavour cannot be challenged. We have not based our approach on politics, ideology or propaganda, and have made no reference beyond the world fellowship of students and youth.

Yet, in this level-of-international relations, there are principles at stake which cannot be sacrificed for the mere appearance of "solidarity." Truth is one of these: the right to speak freely, the right to disagree, to be represented by an association of one's own choosing, and the right of that association to assert its autonomy—all of which have been ignored or flouted in the organization of the VIII and previous Festivals.

Mr. Jala sees no significance in the opposition of the recognized and representative student and youth groups of Finland to the holding of the Festival in their country, nor does he allude to the rebuff given to the organizers of the Festival by the Prime Minister of Finland, and the protests made by numerous unions of students (NFCUS included) against the violation of sovereignty involved in the imposition of the Festival upon an unwilling host.

Surely, it is an uncommon "festival of youth" that so blatantly refuses to take notice of those whom it purports to unite!

The Permanent Commission of the International Preparatory Committee for the Festival listed "Canada" as a participant in its August meeting. However, the individual named, Mr. Tom Jala, cannot be said to represent even a legitimate minority group in Canada. This is a minor, but nevertheless meaningful example of the techniques of misrepresentation practiced by the Festival organizers.

Let me again stress the fact that NFCUS has not rejected the Festival quickly, on narrow political grounds. We have sponsored student tours of the Soviet Union, we have conducted an official exchange of delegations with the Student Council of the U.S.S.R., we have attended meetings of the communist-dominated International Union of Students as observers, and this past summer we delegated an observer to the World Youth Forum in Moscow; we have been and are prepared to take part in an international gathering where there is a remote possibility of a genuine dialogue. But on the basis of what is said above, we can never agree with Mr. Jala that "NFCUS would do Canada and its youth much more good by recognizing the festival and sending representatives as observers at least."

How could Canadian students properly attend or condone the VIII World Youth Festival, whose organizers are far more concerned with their own partisan objectives than with the real aspirations of young men and women?

Help In Time of Need

I am a veteran's widow. My husband died in Deer Lodge in 1949. They were wonderfully good to him there. They got the best doctors and did their best to ease his suffering.

When he passed away his pension died with him as his illness was from another cause, but they were very kind and considerate to me. I got the widows' allowance. When I came to Victoria in 1950 they told me to get in touch with the office here so my cheques would not be held up. I have never had any cause to be anything but grateful to them for their great kindness and sympathy, both for my late husband and myself.

I am neither Liberal nor Conservative, but the present government has done much for the veterans, their dependents, the blind and the handicapped and others needing help. The people who are always wanting more and more should have lived here 50 years ago like us. It was work for very little or go hungry. There were no handouts in those days. They were far happier with a little earned than today with a lot more free giving.

WASHINGTON:

De Gaulle Must Stay

By MAX FREEDMAN

THE best estimate of the Kennedy administration is that the next two months will provide the crucial test for the validity of the Algerian settlement. It will take more than a year before the situation in Algeria can be considered fully stabilized but the next eight weeks will show whether Algeria is to be consigned to anarchy or to a steady evolution to responsible statehood. Some fighting and bloodshed is unavoidable; what is important is the scale of these disorders.

It is imperative, in the judgment of these American officials, that President de Gaulle should remain as leader of France during this whole transition period. They have no sympathy at all with the view, so common in other capitals, that he should retire in the glow of the Algerian truce. They are convinced that only de Gaulle's wisdom and prestige can succeed in converting the truce into a settlement.

Freedman

Turning Point

In retrospect it can be seen that the turning point in the Algerian quarrel came when 11,000,000 Frenchmen went on a symbolic one-day strike in protest against the methods of terror being followed in Algeria. This unprecedented demonstration showed everyone but the hardened zealots of the Secret Army in Algeria that French public opinion was decisively against a solution by force.

The Moslem leaders of Algeria believe that they will be able, before many weeks have passed, to establish effective working relations with many French settlers who will at last dare to embrace moderate policies.

These Frenchmen will be helped towards this decision by their knowledge that they are being watched by the entire French nation which believes overwhelmingly that a new era must begin for a free and sovereign Algeria, linked by its own voluntary choice to the French Republic. If this estimate of the situation is wrong, then chaos and disaster cannot be avoided.

Different Context

It should be realized that the surrender of French control over Algeria must be seen in a very different context from the collapse of French rule in French Indo-China. There was no Dienbienphu in Algeria, no belief, mistaken or accurate, that the outcome could have been different if American and British aid had been offered in time.

The verdict in Algeria, in its basic terms, rests on the principle that French public opinion would no longer agree to go to war with the Moslem majority in Algeria in order to protect the power and rights of the entrenched French minority; the conclusion was reached, instead, that the French minority must look to their power for the protection of their rights; and that the best guarantee that their rights will be respected over the span of years is that this power will be used in a reasonable and co-operative way.

There is a general expectation in Washington that if the Algerian settlement does become a reality, it will soon be possible for France to add four or six divisions to NATO's strength in West Europe.

Active Part

France is also expected to take an active part once again in the Middle East, since the end of the Algerian quarrel will remove the basic antagonism of the Arab nations. This may well be the most important result of the Algerian settlement, measured in world terms.

There is still no clear opinion here on whether the French influence in the Middle East will bring new securities to the troubled area or will introduce new elements of anxiety. At least in its initial stages the more venturesome French policy will certainly raise some troubling questions for Israel, until now the pillar of French calculations for the Middle East.

Finally, American officials are discouraging all speculation about a successor to President de Gaulle. They hope that the new leader of France, who may one day have to be chosen, will be a young man with no links with the pre-war generation of politicians. But for the time being, and particularly during the next few weeks, they trust that responsible French opinion will rally in substantial support to the still threatened standard of President de Gaulle.

Lifetime Business

As a physician of 56 years of experience, I often have been impressed with the fact that when a number of persons get some slight illness, such as a mild attack of influenza, or when they get shaken up in the deralement of a railroad car, a number of them will promptly get well and go back to work. They will feel so well that they won't even bother to go to a doctor.

Another group of people who seemed to have no worse an attack of flu, or who did not seem to be injured at all in the railroad accident, will take to their beds; they will "feel awful," they will develop a dozen or two dozen distresses, and two years later they may still be miserable and perhaps unable to work. Repeated, very careful and thorough examinations of the miserable and unhappy people will show nothing. Why then do they remain ill?

In 1910, when I started on my special training to be an internist, I saw many of these people, and their problem fascinated me. It has fascinated me ever since. Soon I saw that with most of these people, frailness and ill-health was probably a lifetime business. This Christmas I received cards from a few of my oldest patients whose tendency to discomforts I studied around 1915, and now they tell me they still have their old miseries—in spite of a series of operations (not ordered by me).

I soon saw that the people who remained sickly for years after a little infection or a slight accident were a bit odd, unusually nervous, or at times depressed. Some looked frail, but some few were powerfully built. Two were professional football players who were always extremely anxious about their health. They taught me that the main trouble with these people is in the brain.

Then came the First World War and I found that the recruits who promptly cracked up and got a fast pulse, an irritable heart, and shortness of breath—even when on "kitchen police"—belonged in the same old group of frail, nervous and sickly people who for long had been interesting me. There were thousands of such recruits.

Alvarez

Around 1945 I got out some 500 records of these people whom I had studied; I read them over, and discovered that there was one peculiar thing about almost all of them—they had mentally disturbed, or alcoholic, or epileptic, or ne'er-do-well relatives. I then went ahead and dug out more of such records until I had 673 of them.

Then I described these families in a book entitled "Practical Leads to Puzzling Diagnoses: Neuroses That Run Through Families." (Lippincott, 1958). There is no theory of mine in this book: it is just the record of what actually happened to a number of the people in three or four generations of the families I had come to know. It is an astounding story which throws a tremendous light on the causes of many puzzling illnesses. Unfortunately, with the powerful taboo that exists today against even admitting that heredity exists, hardly anyone has had the courage to look into my book, or to review it.

What induced me to write this column today is that I just read a splendid article in the AMA Journal by Drs. John B. Imboden, Arthur Canter, and Leighton Cluff in which they report, first, what happened when 24 persons working in a laboratory accidentally became infected with brucellosis—the abortion disease of cattle and hogs. Of the 24, eight soon recovered. The other 16 went on complaining and still were in poor health when studied over a year later.

What was the difference between the two groups? The eight were cheerful, well-educated, and physically normal people; while the 16 were inclined to be emotionally upset. Some of them had had such troubles as a nervous breakdown or spells of alcoholism. Many of them had a tendency to depression.

After an epidemic of Asian influenza, the same difference was found in the tendency to recovery of two groups. Some got well quickly, while others couldn't seem to get over their many distresses. The significant fact about the second group was that they had a tendency to depression. This study delights me because it showed exactly what I have observed in hundreds of cases. On a small scale, this sort of difference is seen after a football game. Coaches have told me that when their team wins, no player notices his bruises, but if the team has lost, a number of the men are likely to feel badly banged up.

HOME GARDEN

By HILDA BEASTALL

A Little Plot Edged With Herbs

If the time ever comes when it is possible for me to have only a square yard of soil to cultivate and plant, that little plot will be edged with herbs.

The shrubby perennial herbs would grow at the corners, a sage, thyme, rue and lemon balm; and in between I would sow some of the annuals to brighten the salads of summer and fall.

When it comes to the annual herbs, space is needed for a complete collection for there are many and they all have a use.

Small sprigs of the young growths of two or three kinds can be cut up into any of the green salads. If one wishes for variety, a different herb used in each day's salad will create just that effect, banish monotony and stimulate appetite.

Among the common annual herbs are sweet basil which is the last to sow outdoors since it is tender to frost; summer savory and sweet marjoram both strong flavored and to be used with a light hand; dill, by many housewives used exclusively with little cucumbers for pickling—but the young side shoots and the heads of fluffy yellow flowers give delicious flavor to any green, or egg, salad; one plant of borage will suffice for it is a giant among the annuals, but the exquisite blue flowers will attract bees and the young leaves will give cucumber flavor before those fruits are of a size to use.

SUNNY SPOT

A few chives are indispensable for mild onion flavor in soups, sandwiches, salads, stews and meat and fish loaves. And a sunken pall of mint roots will produce fresh leaves for flavoring canned peas during winter and cooling drinks in summer.

A sunny site, and a good garden soil without added fertilizer are the chief requirements for growing the majority of herbs; though mint and chives will both take a richer soil and more water than the others.

Once tried and used, you'll find why herbs would be in my last square yard of garden.

SYNOPSIS—A weakening trough of low pressure along the coast is still causing showery weather across B.C. A transient ridge of high pressure will build across the coast tonight and bring partial clearing to this area. Moving eastward from an intense storm over the Bering Sea, a frontal system threatens the north coast with strong southeasterly winds and rain for Tuesday. Elsewhere Tuesday should bring considerable sunshine but with a few showers across the interior.

Woman, 87, Must Pay Commission

A Victoria woman Mrs. Harriet Butler, was ordered to pay $100 commission on the sale of her house to a local real estate firm on Friday.

The order was made in County Court by Judge J. B. Clearhine after Northwestern Securities of Victoria Ltd. had sued Mrs. Butler for payment of $375 commission.

Judge Clearhine said it appeared that Mrs. Butler, who is 87, did not fully understand the agreement she signed with the firm.

Mrs. Butler was negotiating for the sale of her premises at 477 Swinford Street, Esquimalt, and wanted to have the property valued. She consulted Northwestern Securities and an agreement was signed. The firm contended that it had been asked to sell the property.

JUST VALUE

"She says she never intended to sign such an agreement," Judge Clearhine said, "and that all she asked the plaintiff to do was to value the property."

"I am of the opinion that she did not understand what she was signing," he nevertheless did allow the plaintiff to complete the agreement and I think she should pay a reasonable fee for the work the plaintiff performed."

U.S. Changes Mind On More Bomarcs

WASHINGTON (CP)—The U.S. Air Force sought approval to increase the number of Bomarc anti-aircraft missile squadrons in the United States but the proposal was dropped after defence department consultations.

This was disclosed Sunday in a congressional report of testimony by Pentagon leaders before the Senate armed forces committee earlier this year.

The report shows that Gen. Frederic H. Smith Jr., air force vice-chief of staff, told the committee Feb. 1 that in preparing the 1962-63 defence budget "we did include a procurement for seven squadrons of Bomarc."

This proposal was placed before Defence Secretary McNamara's office in the air force's first budget submission but "in subsequent revisions it dropped out."

The U.S. currently has eight squadrons of the Bomarc—five of the early liquid-fuelled A models and two of the later solid-fuelled B models. Canada is acquiring two squadrons of the B models.

Chairman Richard Russell, Georgia Democrat, asked what has happened to the Bomarc and whether it was "already obsolete."

"In its present configuration it is not obsolete," Smith replied.

U.K. Paper Says Canada Angers U.S.

LONDON (CP)—The Evening Standard says American fear of the Castro regime in Cuba is creating tense relations between Canada and the United States.

"Irritation is beginning to build into anger," says the newspaper in an editorial. The paper adds that the U.S. fear of Castro is "understandable," but that the American has stepped entirely beyond their rights in trying to use Canada as an anti-Castro instrument.

"The U.S. wishes Canada to co-operate in the efforts of the Organization of American States to impose economic sanctions on Dr. Castro's regime. This is quite wrong. Canada is not a member of that organization. She is perfectly free to act as an independent and free agent."

The Standard adds that Canada's trade with Cuba and other Communist countries is a small fraction of the trade that U.S. allies do.

"It is also well known that American businessmen have set up dummy corporations around Latin America to do business with Cuba," it says.

Moderator Nominated

MONTREAL (CP)—Rev. Agnew H. Johnston, Fort William, Ont., will be the nominee of the presbytery of Montreal for the moderatorship of the 88th general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, it was announced here.

Minister of St. Andrew's Church in Fort William for almost 30 years, Mr. Johnston has served on several boards and committees of the general assembly, synod and presbytery and is a member of the administrative council of the assembly.

The assembly will meet in Toronto June 6 to elect a new moderator to succeed Rev. L. Taylor, Medicine Hat, Alta.

Guinea Talks up to Dutch As Sukarno Recalls Envoys

JAKARTA (Reuters)—President Sukarno of Indonesia has decided not to send chief delegate Adam Malik back to the Dutch-Indonesian talks in Washington on the future of West New Guinea, it was announced today.

The announcement was made by Maj. Gen. Acmad Jani, chief of the operations staff for the "liberation" of West New Guinea. It said Sukarno also had decided to recall his second delegate, Soedjarwo Tjondromagoro, from Washington.

"We are still not closing the door to negotiations but it is absolutely up to the Dutch now," said Gen. Jani.

The talks in Washington on the disputed Dutch-held territory were arranged by the United States in the wake of a threat by Indonesia to invade West New Guinea.

The talks began last Tuesday but Foreign Minister Subandrio told reporters here Saturday that they had made no progress.

Malik flew here from Washington Sunday night.

General Jani said there have recently been exchanges of fire by Indonesian air force planes and Dutch warships, but he denied that any Indonesian troops had landed on Dutch-held territory.

The commander of Dutch forces in West New Guinea said today he expects more clashes between Dutch and Indonesians but no large-scale fighting.

Rear-Admiral L. E. H. Leeser told a press conference in Hollandia, capital of West New Guinea, that the Indonesians had made "a small-scale infiltration" on the coastal island of Waiego but there had been no contact so far with the infiltrators, the Dutch news agency reported in an announcement in The Hague.

SOVIET PAPER PROTESTS

Caviar 'Pirates' Roam Caspian Sea

MOSCOW (Reuters)—Gun-toting Soviet fishermen in big "pirate" flotillas rule the Caspian Sea at night, poaching fish and wild game and driving off official inspectors with gunfire, it was reported today.

A Soviet newspaper, Rural Life, declared that "it is time to put an end to this piracy."

But an account it published showed this will be no easy matter because local officials turn a blind eye to the activities of the poachers who, the newspaper said, "do not work at all but live well."

The "pirates" are based in the Republic of Azerbaijan, whose chief port is the oil town of Baku. Their main quarry is the sturgeon, the caviar fish.

One "pirate" caught red-handed shot an inspector dead. The court sentenced him to death but even so, the newspaper complained, "the number of poachers has considerably increased."

Current Slump Hits Industrials

The stock market today returned to its trend last week by going into a decline, with industrial losses far outnumbering gains.

AT TORONTO Federal Grain was down 3 1/2 at 53. Imperial Life was down one point, Imperial Tobacco and Building Products 1/2 and Aluminium 1/4.

Among base metals Falconbridge gained 1/2 at 59 1/2 and Hudson Bay was ahead 1/2. In speculative Lake Duffault was down five cents at $5.20. Northgate advanced 10 cents at $6.30.

Fractional gains by senior western oil accounted for the advance on that board. Dome, Great Plains Development and Home A-B were all up 1/2.

AT NEW YORK American Tobacco, Reynolds, and Liggett and Myers, upset by new attacks in Britain against cigarette smoking, all dropped 3 points or more while Lorillard fell more than 2 and Philip Morris about 5.

Canadian losers included McIntyre Porcupine, off 1/2. Distillers Seagrams and Granby Mining, off 1/2, and Dome Mines, down 1/2. Canadian Pacific was up 1/2 and Walker Gooderham 1/4.

AT MONTREAL with the exception of Consolidated Paper, up 1/2 at 42 1/2, papers were sharply lower. Donohue Brothers fell a point to 25, Atlantic lost 1/2 to 45 1/2, and MacMillan was off 1/2 at 19 1/2. Aluminium dropped 1/2 to 28.

FORD MOTOR BONUSES CHOPPED $667,000

DETROIT (AP)—Salaries and bonuses of Ford Motor Co. officers and directors were $634,380 less last year than in 1960, it was disclosed today.

Salaries were increased $32,620 but bonuses were chopped $667,000. The figures were contained in the preliminary prospectus issued in connection with the proposed sale of additional Ford stock by the Ford Foundation.

John Dykstra, named president during the year, was the biggest gainer financially. His salary was increased from $135,000 to $165,000 and his bonus rose from $240,000 to $260,000.

Henry Ford II, the chairman, retained the highest paid officer. His salary was increased by $12,500 to $200,000 but his bonus dropped $15,000 to $260,000.

Competition Cuts Aluminum Profits

MONTREAL (CP)—Severe competition and surplus capacity continue in the aluminum industry, Nathaniel V. Davis, president, says in the annual report on Aluminium Ltd.

As reported earlier, net income in 1961 was $30,609,380 or $1.4 a share, compared with $39,109,762 and $1.28 a share in 1960. Sales and operating revenue were $516,900,000, compared with $508,600,000.

Sales figures reflect a larger proportion of sales in higher-valued products. Tonnage was down to 663,600 tons from 705,100.

Aluminium Company of Canada Ltd., whose figures are consolidated with its parent, had net earnings of $21,600,000. Sales and operating revenue were $350,700,000, compared with $347,700,000, while tonnage was 549,000 tons compared with 637,800.

BOOSTING SALES

Mr. Davis said much is being done by the company and others in the industry to contribute to growth in consumption through sales development activities and by adding fabricating facilities. He added that this activity "and our confidence in the future are reflected in planned fixed capital outlays and investments of $80,000,000 in 1962 compared with $79,000,000 in 1961."

Comparison of earnings of both companies for the two years, the report states, must take into account the fact that 1960 after-tax earnings benefited from non-recurring factors and that 1961 earnings suffered from an after-tax loss of nearly $2,000,000 caused by the shutdown at Kitimat, B.C., to enable repairs to the Kemano tunnel.

So far in 1962 the company's sales of ingot products have increased in the Americas but declined in other areas, particularly Europe. Sales of semi-fabricated products have continued to expand gradually.

PACKARD NAME TO VANISH?

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Studebaker-Packard Corp. asked its stockholders today to approve a change in the name of the company to Studebaker Corp.

A vote will be taken at the company's annual meeting here April 26.

Studebaker-Packard Corp. was formed in 1954 by the merger of the Packard Motor Car Co. and Studebaker Corp. The last Packard cars were built in 1958.

TODAY'S GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP)—Fairly aggressive demand was evident in flax towards the close of moderate trading today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Buying in flax was attributed generally to United States interests influenced by the uneasy political situation in Argentina, indirectly connected with the flax movement there.

Oats, barley and rye disclosed routine domestic shipping orders and prices on all commodities moved in a narrow range.

Class two, IWA and domestic wheat prices, basis Lakehead, were all up 1/4 from Friday's close.

JFK Briefs Ike On World State

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—President Kennedy and former president Eisenhower, chatting in the pleasant setting of a country club cottage, discussed international affairs for the greater part of an hour Saturday.

Kennedy and his immediate predecessor got together in Eisenhower's vacation cottage at the Eldorado Country Club in nearby Palm Desert.

The president drove the four miles to Eisenhower's California style stone and wood residence from his weekend retreat, singer Bing Crosby's home in the Silver Spur ranch area.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger reported afterward that Kennedy and Eisenhower engaged in "a general discussion of the situation around the world." Kennedy, he added, had brought Eisenhower "up to date on a number of matters."

The face-to-face meeting Saturday of Kennedy and Eisenhower was evidently more congenial than a long-range exchange between Kennedy's travelling party and former vice president Richard M. Nixon.

Nixon, who lost to Kennedy in 1960 and is now seeking the Republican nomination to oppose Democrat Edmund (Pat) Brown's bid for re-election as governor of California, took critical note of Kennedy's presence. The president and his brother had arrived Friday and Nixon was quoted as saying:

"We welcome them. In November we're going to show these carpet-baggers a thing or two."

Asked for comment, Salinger tartly observed:

Canada-U.S. Tariff Wall Assaulted

DETROIT (CP)—The president of Ford of Canada urged Canadians and Americans Saturday to tear down the "sandpaper curtain" between the two nations and establish stronger economic ties.

Karl E. Scott of Oakville, addressing 1,000 Rotarians at a district Rotary conference, said Canada and the U.S. "cannot allow their combined abilities to compete and be weakened because of hampering irritations and misunderstandings between us."

Advocating free trade and a fuller flow of investment capital between the two countries, Mr. Scott said these measures would improve the ability of efficient producers to exploit trading opportunities throughout the world.

Mr. Scott said the alternative was an ever-higher protective wall, dwindling foreign trade, higher prices to consumers and a severe decline in the standard of living.

"It is inconceivable," he said, "that Canadians would pay this price for complete economic independence or because of nebulous fears about the effects on their sovereignty that would result from closer association with the United States."

'MOST MAGIC 2 WEEKS IN MY LIFE'—JACKIE

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy headed home today from what she called "the most magic two weeks in my life."

Carrying memories of elephants and horses, Maharajas and tribal chieftains, Mrs. Kennedy ended her Asian tour and said she hoped to come back again soon.

"It is terribly sad to be leaving today," she said as she boarded a Pakistani jet airliner for London.

Right to Try Eichmann Asserted

JERUSALEM (Reuters)—Adolf Eichmann's abduction from Argentina had no bearing on the right of an Israeli court to try the former Nazi SS lieutenant-colonel, Attorney-General Gideon Hausner contended today.

Hausner told the Supreme Court, which is hearing an appeal on Eichmann's conviction against the Jewish people, that the people Eichmann offended were entitled to judge him. The defence had asked the five-man appeal court to rule that the "illegal abduction" of Eichmann by Israeli agents in May of 1960 deprived the court of its jurisdiction. It asked a "proper trial" by a court in Germany. It was the third session of Eichmann's appeal against the finding of a Jerusalem district court last December for his role in the mass murder of European Jews during the Second World War. After a lengthy session the court adjourned until Tuesday. Eichmann "is a fugitive from justice in 18 countries," Haus-

SOLUTION WEDNESDAY

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

PALMA, Majorca — Riding over to this sunny picture-postcard island on a tender from the Ss. Leonardo da Vinci, Patrice Munsel laughed as she talked about "tensed-up women" failing to make it on American TV while "easy-going men just keep going on and on."

Pat and her good-looking husband, Bob Schuler, were returning here on a sentimental journey.

Their son Coco was born here prematurely, and here, at a pound and a half, he made a sensational race for life.

"We're going to the clinica now to show the pictures of how healthy he is at 3 1/2," Pat said.

They'd been vacationing up near picturesque Formentor that summer when Coco arrived too early.

LONG-FIGHT
The doctor loaded Coco, an oxygen tent, father Bob and travel writer Temple Fielding into Fielding's car. Fielding drove madly, but expertly through 60 miles of tortuous mountain roads to the Palma Hospital, where Coco fought for weeks for his tiny life.

Now Coco'll be part of the entourage that Pat takes to Los Angeles and San Francisco in April when she stars in "Song of Norway," retitled to fit her.

"We travel with four kids, two dogs, my secretary, a nurse and a maid and a butler. They have to furnish us a house—it's in every contract. The response to operettas is unbelievable!"

"And we have to ship two cars ahead," her husband said. Pat and Bob—"the Schulers"—were delighted on the cruise. Pat was always showing up in a wild hat that resembled a toreador's or something tall, white and furry, reminiscent of the Yukon. They'd ride off in a carriage hunting for a flamenco-dress for one of the kids and come back saying they wouldn't pay any $14. When the ship news reporters came aboard, Pat gave interviews in French, Italian or English.

INTERESTED IF . . .

"Naturally," said Pat, as the local newsmen whirled, catching her stepping on the dock, "if somebody came along with $400,000 for us to do a TV show, we'd be interested."

"But women seem to have too much vitality for TV. You have to relax like Perry Como, Garry Moore and Ed Sullivan."

Her own vitality will be spent on "Song of Norway," then "The Merry Widow" in Dallas in August. Then she comes to Broadway to do "Chrysanthemum," a musical melodrama, period 1912, about a girl who gets sold into white slavery in Buenos Aires.

Schuler'll produce it along with Howard Barker, producer of "Little Mary Sunshine."

THE WEEKEND WINDUP
IN NEW YORK: Shelley Winters'll be a redhead in "Ig-uana." . . . Frank Sinatra starts filming "Come Blow Your Horn," Sept. 10. . . . William Wyler, who produced "Children's Hour," raps stars who cause costly delays: "They're no better than thieves who steal money." . . . Connie Stevens said at the Forum she'd like to do a B-way show.

Ben Gazzara's pals say that since his marriage to Janice Rule he limits himself to one drink at Harold's Show Spot, then rushes home. (They call the drink "The Stockade"). . . . Mel Torme'll make an on-stage album at the Red Hill, in Camden. . . . Wealthy Texas oil man Harris Masterston, who dropped a bundle on "New Faces," shrugs it off: "It's more fun to produce a flop show than a dry well."

Paramount couldn't find any Nazi flags or swastikas in present-day Germany while filming "Counterfeit Traitor," had to have them made in H'wood and flown over.

Former disc jockey Willie Bryant will lecture at the U. of California on "The Music Industry." . . . Olivia de Havilland, whose first book is due out next month, wants to write a novel next.

EARL'S PEARLS: Josh Billings said it long ago: "The hardest thing any man can do is fall down on the ice when it's slippery—and get up and praise the Lord."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Ted Chinnell reports this sign in a bar: "If you're drinking to forget, please pay in advance. Or if you're driving, don't drink—you may spill it."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Researchers report the average husband is unimaginative, but happy with his wife and job. That figures—a square has no tendency to roll. Florida Times-Union.

Edward Anthony's book, "O Rare Don Masquias," relates that Columist Marquis was warned once that he must cure himself of his procrastination and he replied, "All right, I'll start tomorrow. . . . That's earl, brother."

SNOW BUNNY—Connie Michael, 3, offers a paper carrot to giant snow rabbit made by her father in Sheboygan, Wis.

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy. Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions to Andy will receive worthwhile prizes. The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 28-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to Kathryn George, age 9, Visalia, Calif., for her question:

How Do They Produce Cotton?

Cotton, that soft, smooth, strong and sturdy fabric, is a gift of the plant world. It is produced by several different plants that grow around the world. But Mother Nature's cotton is not ready to be made into dresses. This wonderful material must go through many stages in a cotton mill and more stages in a textile mill before it becomes a fabric ready to be made into a dress.

The story of a cotton dress begins in a warm, sunny field. The soil will be chopped into a layer of soft, brown crumbs and if the climate is dry there will be ditches or an irrigation system to keep it moist. Thick rows of the little brown cotton seeds may be planted in furrows two inches deep, in little hills or in flat layers. The baby seedlings need warmth and moisture. They

Seed Wrapped in Blanket

The ripe cotton boll is shaped like an egg, about one inch long and one-and-a-half inches wide. It is a house with maybe five little rooms, each room having maybe 10 cotton seeds.

At last the boll bursts open and we see that each seed is wrapped in a fuzzy blanket of fine, whitish threads. The fibres of the blanket, maybe 10,000 of them, form the puffy tuft of cotton which is taken to the cotton mill.

There the cotton fibres are washed and combed, over and over again. Machines sort them into lengths and twist several together into threads. With more twisting, the threads become longer and longer and at last great spools of the cotton are ready to be woven into fabric. This job is done by the textile mills which also dye the threads or the finished fabrics. These mills also print colored patterns onto some of the finished materials.

The world uses more than seven million tons of cotton a year—and about half of this huge crop is grown in the United States. These crops are grown in the sunny Southwest, in the Southwest, and along the far western valleys of California. The cotton plants need a very warm summer, 100 days or almost four months long. They also need water and lots of care to protect them from weeds and insects.

Andy sends a Hammond's Nature Atlas of America to Paul Sherwood, age 12, Portland, Maine, for his question:

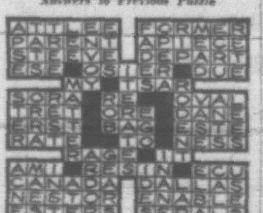

WHAT IS A LODESTONE?

The word lode is borrowed from an ancient word for a journey. Later it came to mean a guide. A lodestar, such as Polaris, is a star from which a traveller can take his bearings and find his way home. Much later in man's history, he discovered a lodestone to point out the north direction for him. This stone was a natural magnet, most likely the mineral magnetite.

Magnetite, dense and dark, is an ore of iron. Certain lumps are more magnetic than others. Slivers of this metal were used to make the first magnetic compasses and were called lodestones, or guiding stones. Many metal meteorites are also magnetic, which case they, too, may be called lodestones.

AERIAL BEAR HUNTERS SPARK RUSS SCRAMBLE

WASHINGTON (AP)—A flight of Alaskan bush pilots on a polar bear hunt flew too close to Soviet territory last Wednesday and touched off a brief scramble of Russian planes, the federal aviation agency said Saturday.

At least one U.S. military plane was put up to counter the Soviet action, an FAA spokesman said, but the Russian planes had turned back by that time.

He said he did not know exactly how close the bear-hunting flyers came to the Soviet-U.S. border, but it was "too close."

Monster Orbital Nuclear Weapon

LONDON (Reuters) — The Manchester Guardian suggests there is some evidence that the Russians might be developing a weapon of unprecedented proportions — a 500-megaton nuclear bomb—to orbit the earth.

Lord Shackleton, in a House of Lords debate two days ago, said the Russians "may even be developing a 500-megaton weapon, which could be exploded in space."

The Guardian comments: "The serious prospect of space weapons which can inflict massive destruction without leaving their orbital path must be faced by those who are responsible for our survival."

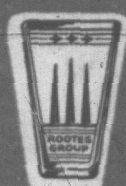

The paper adds that there is no solid evidence to back up the supposition, but "the evidence is strong enough to affect military planning and to lead serious public opinion to prepare for some harsh threats."

It adds that a satellite containing a weapon of such magnitude would not, in itself, be an act of aggression any more than the launching of a Polaris missile-carrying submarine in the United States.

Such a weapon also would frustrate all detection measures because its effect would be almost simultaneous with detonation.

Night Closure Asked At All Saanich Parks

Saanich parks committee chairman Gregory Cook Saturday disagreed with Reeve Stanley Murphy that a proposed parks overnight closure bylaw should only cover "some" municipal recreational areas.

The reeve said Friday only such parks as Cadboro-Gyro, Mount Tolmie and lower Mount Douglas Parks should be closed at night.

The proposed bylaw is aimed at controlling vandalism and all-night carousing in public parks.

"Let's not pussy-foot around this problem," said Mr. Cook. "We want a bylaw with some teeth to enable police to nab people who are drinking and breaking beer bottles in our parks—small or large."

"The bylaw is not aimed at pedestrians minding their own business," he added. "Its purpose is to stop the desecration of our parks by a small minority."

While there is little trouble in the smaller parks, Mr. Cook said the bylaw should cover these too.

To meet the demands of Canadian hospitals, our Canadian Red Cross must collect over 650,000 bottles of blood in 1962.

"The bylaw would act as a safeguard against any trouble arising in the smaller recreational areas," he said. "Then again if we want to develop a small ornamental park, residents around it will want some protection."

REACHED STRATOSPHERE

First High-Level Balloonist Dies

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP)—Prof. Auguste Piccard, first to soar into the stratosphere and first to plumb the great ocean depths, died Sunday of a heart attack. He was 78.

In a balloon gondola of his own design, he had soared more than 10 miles upward. And in a steel ball he and his son fashioned he had gone down two miles beneath the sea.

Active to the last and appearing to be in good health, he was at work on a new diving ship with his son Jacques when death struck.

The Swiss scientist began research work with balloons in the 1920s, studying cosmic rays, the mysterious high-energy rays from space. He made 15 balloon ascensions before 1927. In that year, at the request of Albert Einstein, he made a balloon ascension of more than two miles and confirmed some aspects of the famed German scientist's theory of relativity.

An inventor as well as a scientist, Piccard made his own pressurized aluminum gondola for his first challenge of the stratosphere in 1931. While that ascent reached 52,000 feet, a height never approached previously by man, it came near ending in disaster.

STUCK IN STRATOSPHERE
Control trouble developed about the gondola as it was borne swiftly aloft by an enormous balloon, and for a time he was locked in the stratosphere unable to ascend or descend.

Scientists on the ground feared he would perish in the thin upper atmosphere, but he manoeuvred his space craft back to earth, and the next year sent it up to more than 53,000 feet.

The unknown frontiers of the ocean depths always had interested him as much as the frontiers of space, and in the Second World War he turned to deep-sea research.

With his son Jacques, he began work in 1954 on a "steel balloon" that would take him deeper into the sea depths than any man had ventured before. In 1954, the American scientist William Beebe had descended 3,000 feet in his bathysphere, but the 40-ton steel balloon Piccard designed was destined to dwarf that pioneering venture.

Piccard called his sea-going balloon a "bathyscaphe"—from the Greek, meaning depth ship. In a dive in 1953 off the west coast of Italy, he and his son reached a depth of two miles.

His son was to descend seven miles in 1960, but by that time the professor had retired from deep-sea exploration. In recent years, Piccard worked on underwater problems for the U.S. Navy, which bought his improved model bathyscaphe in 1958.

TV NEVER TO REPLACE TEACHERS

TORONTO (CP)—Television instruction will not replace teachers, according to a report released here.

The report by the Toronto Board of Education's education centre library, says there is no significant difference between the effectiveness of television teaching and face-to-face instruction.

However, it suggests television might increase the attention of students because of its novelty.

The 119-page report is a summary of studies made by observers in various parts of the United States, where television was first used in schools 10 years ago.

Young Actor Arrested

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actor Billy Gray, 24, was arrested Sunday on suspicion of drunken driving and possession of marijuana. Gray, who plays the young son of the television series Father Knows Best, is free on bail of $2,625.

'END MADNESS'

Dave Groos Scorns A-Arms for Canada

VANCOUVER (CP)—Canada should declare herself a non-nuclear power and make a start toward ending the madness of the atomic age, Dave Groos told British Columbia's young Liberals Saturday.

The 44-year-old retired naval officer who is a federal Liberal candidate in the Esquimalt-Saanich riding told the Young Liberals' convention: "We should declare ourselves to be a non-nuclear power; we should tell NATO that our role there would be a non-nuclear role and we should so instruct the Canadian chief of staff."

At the same time, he suggested that U.S. nuclear weapons for defence only should be permitted on Canadian soil if the U.S. felt it necessary. As for Canada, Capt. Groos felt she should develop a trained police force to be made available to the United Nations for the control of brush fire wars.

For her own defence he suggested Canada could build nuclear submarines.

He said if Canada renounced nuclear weapons "we might be surprised at the response." It was up to some country like Canada to take the lead in this.

'SLEEPING PILLS AND 3 LEFT FEET'

NEW YORK (AP)—Janet Leigh blames "three left feet and a couple of sleeping pills" for the hotel room fall that her doctor says put her in a five-hour coma.

"None of my friends were surprised," the actress said Sunday from her hospital bed. "They all know I have three left feet. . . I feel fine now except for a slight headache."

Miss Leigh, 33, recently separated from her actor-husband, Tony Curtis, was admitted to hospital early Saturday after she was found unconscious on the bathroom floor of her Sherry Netherland Hotel suite.

Miss Leigh said later that she had taken two sleeping pills and did not remember falling.

Dr. Richard Bachrach, the actress' personal physician, said she suffered a concussion and a cheekbone injury. She still had a black eye and a cheek-bruise Sunday.

Miss Leigh and Curtis announced their separation two weeks ago "to work out" marital difficulties. They had been married 10 years.

JANET LEIGH... explains prang

Three Nazis Jailed For Polish Massacre

GIESSEN, West Germany (Reuters)—Two former German police officers and a one-time Nazi storm trooper were jailed here today for complicity in the wartime massacre of at least 162 Jews in Poland.

Police Maj. Kurt Kirschner, 62, was sentenced to three years and nine months at hard labor; police Capt. Hans Hoffmann, 57, to three years and six months, and ex-storm trooper Theodor Pillich, 60, to three years and three months.

The two years they have spent in custody during investigation of the case will be deducted from their sentences.

Earlier this month, the court was told the Jews were shot at Ostrow-Mazowiecka, Poland.

The prosecutor asked for heavier sentences. He said Kirschner was in charge of the mass shooting and that Hoffmann—who denied it—provided police for the shooting and was present at the massacre, and that Pillich took photographs and encouraged the firing squad.

New Beach 'Ordered' At Oak Bay

Work is expected to start within a few weeks on replacing a beach at Glenlyon School near Oak Bay Boathouse.

The beach was washed away by tidal currents set up after construction of the new Turkey Head breakwater.

The federal government has awarded the contract for $8,000 to Midland Construction Company here. About 1,500 tons of rocks weighing up to 100 pounds will be used as a base and 600 tons of sand and gravel will be used as topping.

Glenlyon headmaster Ian Simpson had complained to Oak Bay council that the tide had washed away all the sand, leaving just clay and was in the process of undermining the seawall foundations.

Girls! Canada's the Place For Happy Hunting Ground

OTTAWA (CP)—If figures mean anything, Canada is a good hunting ground for young women seeking a trip to the altar.

There were 1,433,800 single men from age 15 to 34 at June 1, 1960, and 1,029,700 single women in the same age group, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics estimated today.

That's a surplus of 404,100 males. Or, to put it another way, for every young man there was just over seven-tenths of a young woman.

A surplus of single men existed in every other age group, too, though not to such a marked extent.

Males, single and otherwise, outnumbered females 9,007,300 to 8,710,700 at June 1, 1960, for a total Canadian population then of 17,778,000 excluding the Yukon and Northwest Territories. The male majority of 236,000 was an increase from the majority of 218,164 in 1956.

FIXES POPULATION

Later figures on population by marital status, age groups and sex, based on the decennial census taken in June of 1961, will be issued later this year by the bureau. The bureau already has fixed Canada's population at June 1, 1961, including the northern territories, at 18,238,247 up from 16,080,791 in 1956.

The report issued today on 1960 showed Canada had 3,918,000 married men of all ages and 3,883,100 married women. Those figures don't match, the bureau explained, largely because of a preponderance of male immigrants whose wives hadn't yet joined them in Canada.

The adage that married women usually outlive their mates is borne out in the report, which shows 611,000 widowed and divorced women compared to 213,600 men of the same status.

Discounting marital status, females outnumbered males in 1960 only in the 35-44 and 65-plus age groups, marginally in the former and by 685,300 to 649,200 in the latter. In 1956, there was a bare majority of 147 males in the 65-plus age group. The tide turned in favor of women the following year and they've been widening the gap each year since.

From the cradle to the twilight years, males outnumbered females in all provinces in both 1960 and 1956.

But the report showed that the majority of males over females in that period decreased in Prince Edward Island, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. Heaviest cut in the male majority occurred in Saskatchewan—to 31,400 from 36,191.

SHOWS BIG CHANGE
Among the provinces where the male majority increased from 1956 to 1960, the biggest change was in Quebec where the difference was more than doubled to 15,800 from 6,976.

The male supremacy is heaviest in Western Canada. For instance, in 1960 most-populous Ontario had 44,000 more males than females of all ages while Alberta and British Columbia, fourth and third in total population among the provinces, had male majorities of 47,600 and 45,200, respectively.

The trend toward marriage at an earlier age during the war and post-war period was reflected in the sharp rise in the proportion married in the 15-24 age group.

The percentage increased from 8.0 in 1941 to 16.4 in 1960 for males, and from 21.7 in 1941 to 34.6 in 1960 for females.

Of the Canadian population of 17,778,000 in June, 1960, excluding the northern territories, 11,816,400 or 66.5 per cent were 15 years or older.

Males 15 and over totalled an estimated 5,962,100, of whom 30.7 per cent were single, 65.7 per cent were married and 3.6 per cent were widowed or divorced. Females 15 and over were an estimated 5,843,300, of whom 23.2 per cent were single, 66.3 per cent were married and 10.5 per cent were widowed or divorced.

Backhand Flip Gives Big Bob Fabulous 50

By Canadian Press

Bobby Hull was cutting in slowly toward the right corner of New York Rangers' net when Reg Fleming's quick pass came across the goal mouth.

It was right on his stick. With a backhand flip, the puck sailed neatly into the corner of the net. And that was all there was to it—Hull had scored his 50th goal of the National Hockey League season on the last night of the regular season.

New York went on to defeat Chicago Black Hawks 4-1 Sunday night—the Hawks also lost 5-3 at Montreal Saturday when Bobby got his 49th—but the third-place Hawks left the ice behaving as though they had won the Stanley Cup.

Rangers' Andy Bathgate came back to score a goal that tied him with Hull for the NHL point-scoring leadership at 84 points, but Hull's higher number of goals earned him the Art Ross Trophy. Both men will receive $1,000 from the league.

Hull's phenomenal scoring burst of 37 goals in 35 games gave him a tie for the record set in 1944-45 by Maurice Richard of Montreal Canadiens and equaled last season by Montreal's Bernie Geoffrion.

Canadiens Set Mark

The Habs set a record of their own. In the course of beating Detroit Red Wings 5-2 Sunday night, they ran their goal-scoring total to 259, one more than their own mark of 1958-59.

Detroit's last hopes of a play-off berth had vanished in Toronto Saturday when they were held to a 2-2 tie by the second-place Maple Leafs. New York's victory over the Hawks left the fourth-place Rangers a comfortable four points ahead of them.

In a game that meant nothing to either side, Toronto bowed 5-4 Sunday to the last-place Boston Bruins.

Both Hull and Bathgate were checked vigorously and often illegally after their first-period tallies as their team-mates tried to lend them a hand in settling the scoring race. Both finished with 84 points—Hull having 34 assists to go with his 50 goals and Bathgate getting 28 goals and 56 assists.

Bathgate's goal came on a play similar to Hull's with Earl Gargner feeding him the pass. Gargner, Andy Hebenton and Ted Hampson got the other New York goals. Bathgate figured in Hebenton's goal but two other Rangers touched the puck before it went in so he didn't get an assist.

Hawks Make Sure

In the last period at least three penalties were committed on Bathgate—two of them in the dying seconds of the game when the Hawks took a no-holds-barred attitude to keep the scoring tie for Hull.

Stan Mikita set up Hull's goal at Montreal, rifling a pass into the goal mouth that went in either off Bobby's stick or his body. It temporarily tied the game at 3-3 in the third period.

Ralph Backstrom scored twice for the Habs, whose other goals came from Don Marshall, Phil Goyette and Gilles Tremblay. Mikita and Ab McDonald were the other Chicago marksmen.

The Wings went down fighting at Toronto. Alex Delvecchio gave them the lead in the first period but they fell behind as Toronto got goals from Al Arbour and Dick Duff. Then Forbes Kennedy, the Charlotte-town sniper recently recalled from Edmonton Flyers of the Western League, fired his first NHL goal of the season in the third period.

The game ended with the Wings buzzing around the Toronto net but Leafs held on.

The Hawks return to Montreal Tuesday to open their best-of-seven Stanley Cup semi-final against the Canadiens while the Rangers begin a similar series with the Leafs at Toronto.

Y's Pearce, Murphy Win

Victoria's Flying Y swimmers had to pass up the relays but performed admirably in individual races at the International Y swimming championships at Bellingham on the weekend.

Travel connections forced the Y water artists to forego relay races. But the club's Jim Pearce and Susan Murphy swam to individual victories.

Pearce won the 100-yards freestyle in 55.3, was second in the 100-yard butterfly. Young Susan won the 50-yards freestyle.

Esquimalt 'Spiel Draws 40 Rinks

Esquimalt Curling Club's spring bonspiel will start, as scheduled, next Sunday but there's still room for eight more rinks.

Forty foursomes entered the 'spiel by Sunday night but officials are hoping eight more will enter today to balance out the draw.

Soggy Ruggermen Can't Settle Issue

Oak Bay Police and HMCS Venture splashed for two and one half hours at soggy Windsor Park Saturday without settling their sudden-death Intermediate Rugby League semi-final differences.

The teams finished the regular game and an overtime session at 3-3. A first half try by Venture's Gordon Davis was nullified by a second half try by Oak Bay's Dennis Guelpha. A rematch will be played this week.

Skiers Stymied By Snowmobile

Ski conditions were excellent at Green Mountain Sunday but Victoria Sno-Birds were thwarted in their attempt to compete for the Nanaimo Centennial Trophy by the mechanical failure of the snowmobile.

Sno-Birds will compete for the trophy and two additional awards at Green Mountain April 9.

More than 120 skiers took to the Green Mountain slopes where 40 inches of fresh snow fell last week.

HAZARDS OF GOLF

Trouble wasn't difficult to find. Most competitors in Sunday's qualifying round of Times Open tournament found it sooner or later. Gorge Vale's George Murphy (left) found water hazard on Upland's 13th fairway a tough obstacle while Neil Horton of Colwood found himself stymied by tree and water pipe on 18th. GOVERNOR DEMANDS FIGHT REPORT

Recovery Chances Only One in 10,000

BY ED CORRIGAN

Hagen Honored

CHICAGO (AP)—Walter Hagen the "magnificent dunder" and "pro's pro" 40 years ago, was named the 1961 winner Saturday of the William D. Richardson Trophy, awarded annually since 1947 by the Golf Writers Association of America for outstanding contribution to golf.

NEW YORK (AP)—Benny "Kid" Paret, who rose from a $2-a-day sugar cane cutter in the fields of Cuba to welterweight boxing champion of the world, was fighting for his life against astronomical odds today.

He was battered senseless by Emile Griffith in defending his 147-pound welterweight title in Madison Square Garden Saturday night and was still unconscious today with head injuries.

Surgeons drilled four holes in his skull to relieve the pressure of blood clots on both sides of the brain.

Manager Manuel Alfaro said a doctor told him Paret's chances of recovery are "one in 10,000."

Alfaro, who spend the night in Roosevelt Hospital where Paret was being treated, said he believed the boxer could hear and feel "to some extent."

Rockefeller Wants Report Today

Meanwhile, the New York State Athletic Commission was rushing to complete a report on the fight ordered by Governor Nelson Rockefeller. The governor demanded the report be in his hands today.

Paret, 25, took a fearful beating from Griffith before referee Ruby Goldstein stopped the scheduled 15-round at 2:09 of the 12th round. Ringsiders counted between 20 and 26 punches that connected while Griffith had Paret in a neutral corner.

As Paret's head caught between the ropes, slid slowly to the floor, Griffith—striving to regain the championship he had lost to Paret last Sept. 30—caught between the ropes, I screamed for Goldstein to stop it. But apparently he didn't hear me.

Dr. Alexander Schiff of the New York State Athletic Commission said "Paret entered the ring in top physical shape. . . . He had passed all the physical tests required. Paret has been shaken up before in fights. But he was a sound fighter physically when he entered the ring."

Goldstein, a veteran of 70 professional fights during his boxing career and considered an outstanding referee, said he felt he did the right thing in allowing the battle to continue so long.

"Sometimes things don't turn out right afterwards. I knew Paret as a tough fellow. Some times in the first part of a round he doesn't do too well. Then he comes out of it and starts fighting."

Griffith said Clancy had been worried about the beating he was giving Paret for the last four or five rounds.

"Between each of those rounds, Gil would ask if a doctor had looked at Paret. Finally, at the end of the 11th, Gil told me he looked tired and to try to get it over with. So I went out with that purpose in mind."

Clancy said: "The way it ended takes all the joy out of regaining the title. I think Goldstein did a good job the way he handled the fight and stopped it."

"Paret had been super-human earlier in absorbing punches and weathering Griffith's barrages. As for the ending, I had no impression the referee could have stopped it earlier."

Alfaro bitterly criticized Goldstein for permitting the fight to go on as long as it did.

Defending Champ Out in a Hurry

Munn Wins Medal Honors In Times' Qualifying Test

BY ERNIE FEDORUK

Dickie Munn, an exciting young golfer, pocketed $50 for a fine day's work, but the big story of Sunday's qualifying round in the Times Vancouver Island Open concerns those who couldn't strike it rich.

Defending champion Norm Boden didn't.

Uplands amateur Joe Briggs, another former winner, also missed.

So, too, did professionals Fred Painter, Joe Pryke and Mel Carlow.

Freddie Ranson, a semi-finalist last year, was another casualty.

Otherwise, the other "big names" made it safely into the select 32 that next Sunday open the match-play phase of the Island's major tournament.

But Boden was the big casualty and he called the shot himself seconds after missing a difficult putt that would have given him a par four on the 18th green.

"I needed that one," he said. "That would have put me in . . . for sure."

He finished with a bogey five, a final 78, and a firm conviction that his score would not be good enough. He was proven right about three hours later when the draw was made.

Luck of the Draw Helps Three

Those scoring 77 or better made it quite safely.

Three out of nine players scoring 78s were drawn in. They were Cowichan's Clayton Wright, Bob McKean of Oak Bay and Gorge Vale's Dave Panthorpe.

The defending champion numbered among the unlucky ones. Scores of 73 or better made it into the handicap section with two 74s completing the field.

While Boden was falling, Munn came charging down the stretch with birdies on two of the last three holes to claim medal honors with a one-under-par 69.

Tied for second were Dr. Bill Wakeham.

Cowichan Trio Only Outsiders

Three Cowichan golfers prevented Victoria district swimmers from making a clean sweep of the 32 championship berths. In addition to Wright, Mel Evans and veteran Gord Whan have hopes of taking the Times Trophy to the Duncan club.

One Gorge Vale golfer, a five-handicapper, used all of his strokes on one green when he five-putted from about 20 feet out. That was another sad story, and there were many, many more floating around the locker room.

But the happiest story was Munn's. He wrote it by belt-ting out booming tee shots and by putting consistently. The 19-year-old assistant professional at Banff hit 16 of the 18 greens and made only 33 putts.

He missed hitting only the 12th and 18th greens in regulation figures and wound up taking birdies on both holes.

Munn dropped a 12-foot putt on the ninth green for a birdie two, a 15-footer on the 16th for a birdie three, and about a 20-footer on the 17th for another three.

Otherwise, he consistently putted to within easy tap-in distance.

Bigelow's 66 Tops Net Scorers

Munn's most spectacular shot came when he was playing the 10th. He pushed his drive out to the right and onto the 12 fairway. His brilliant recovery, however—a tremendous seven-iron shot over the trees—left him only 12 feet from the pin.

MacLeod, one under after 15, lost his chance for the medal when he three-putted the short, par-three 16th.

Dr. Bigelow, extremely pleased with what he feels is his "best round in several weeks," also had a great chance for a 69. One under playing the 18th, he missed the green when he hooked his approach shot and had to settle for a bogey five.

Dr. Bigelow's four-handicap, however, was good enough to give him the best net score of the day—a 66.

Carroll, like MacLeod, was also one under after 15 but lost the advantage when he took a bogey four on the 16th.

Next Sunday, the field moves to Victoria Golf Club.

Vets Bounce Sunsets; Reach B.C. Hoop Final

It looks today, as if it will be a tough chore to keep Victoria Naval Vets away from the provincial senior "B" women's basketball crown.

Vets, who lost to Kelowna in last year's B.C. final, get another shot at the title next weekend, meeting . . .

Salmon Arm on the home floor of the interior champs.

Coach Wally Yeamans' charges turned in an impressive weekend performance at Vancouver as they romped to the B.C. coast crown in a two-game total-points series. Vets whipped Vancouver Sunsets 44-24 in the series opener Friday and followed up Saturday by whipping their rival 61-35.

Mary Pearson and Sylvia Campbell sparked Saturday's victory. Miss Pearson, who had scored 19 points Friday, hit the hoop for 27 Saturday, while Miss Campbell dunked 19 points.

Scoring: Naval Vets—Gail Archibald 2, Sylvia Campbell 15, Louise Mason 8, Rita Moody 1, Ardy Murray 2, Arlene Pearce 2, Mary Pearson 27, Total—61.

Sunsets—Sandy Chisholm 6, Elizabeth Craig 4, Maureen Horton 2, Barb Jellett 4, Carrie MacLeod 4, Vi Stevens 2, Mary Vandermeer 1, Florence Walsh 1, Total—35.

Casper Falters Badly

MIAMI (AP)—Paul Bondeson, 22-year-old ex-paratrooper, and handsome Bob Goalby, with 211 for 54 holes, surged into a tie for the third round lead in the $50,000 Doral County open Sunday when the former pace-setter, Bill Casper, faltered badly.

The blond Bondeson, in his first year on the professional golf tour, fired a brilliant five-under-par 67 for a 54-hole total of 211 to climb up from seventh place.

Goalby, the year's No. 10 money winner, needed only a par 72 to join Bondeson on top of the standings after Casper blew to a 75 and dropped into a second-place tie with Jack Nicklaus at 212.

Palmer At 215

Ted Kroll and Dave Ragan were tied at 214; Arnold Palmer and Tommy Bolt at 215.

The cutoff point for getting into Sunday's third round was 153 and 94 pros made this score or better.

Among the major casualties who failed to reach the third round were Stan Leonard of Vancouver, eight-time Canadian PGA champion, and Al Balding of Toronto.

Leonard shot a 81-77-158 and Balding a 79-75-154.

Gendebien Gets Gold and Glory

SEBRING, Fla. (AP)—Jakim Bonnier of Sweden and Lucien Bianchi of Belgium scored an upset victory in Saturday's 12-hour endurance auto race but Olivier Gendebien, as usual, cut in on a man-sized share of the gold and glory.

Teaming with Phil Hill of Santa Monica, Calif., the 1961 driving champion, Gendebien shared in $3,000 prize money and earned nine valuable points for the Ferrari factory in the car manufacturers' championship. They drove a Ferrari grand touring model to the important GT title.

Bonnier and Bianchi won only $300 for taking the over-all crown.

$7,500 for Folk

SPOKANE (AP)—Spokane Comet defenceman Bill Folk, felled by a heart attack last October, was the real winner Saturday night in the Vancouver-Spokane Western Hockey League game here. Folk, whose 13-year professional career was halted by the seizure, received about $7,500 in donations from hockey players and teams throughout Canada and the U.S. in ceremonies between periods.

Minor Lacrosse

Registrations of boys for all divisions of the Greater Victoria Minor Lacrosse Association will start next Saturday at 10 a.m. in Stevenson Park.

Victoria United is the Pacific Coast Soccer League's blue-chip stock, but the speculators are sitting tight until after the team's meeting with Vancouver Firefighters in Vancouver next Saturday.

United already seems to have hit an all-time high mark in PCSL circles, but the team's status could go even higher should the Islanders beat the Firemen.

That's the big game that manager Wally Milligan is working on today and he'll concede that there's "some room for improvement" over Saturday's display, in which United defeated Canadians 2-0.

FIFTH SHUTOUT

It was the fifth straight victory and fifth shutout for goalkeeper Barry Sadler in this second half.

Firefighters took over second place from Columbus with a 2-1 victory over the defending champion Westminster Royals in Vancouver Sunday. North Shore defeated St. Andrews 4-1 at Vancouver Saturday.

In a game in which made ball control difficult, United got its two goals in the first half. Inside George Paul scored at the 22-minute mark, heading a rebound after a blistering free kick by centre forward Geoff Hill bounced off the cross-bar. At 31 minutes, Volker Stoldt got out alone in front of goalie Hans Lee, on a pass from Henri Vanderhorst, and scored easily.

A total of 831 fans watched the game.

SMITH STARS

Conditions were also muddy in Vancouver Saturday when Bob Smith, alternating between left wing and centre forward, led the North Shore attack with two goals. Gogie Stewart and Bill Abbott added the others.

Sunday's game, before 1,600 fans, was gruelling and hard fought.

The Firemen got the winner on a bad slip-up by the Royals' defence, centre forward Jim Blundell breaking through to

France Loses To Welsh Club

CARDIFF, Wales (Reuters)—Wales beat France 3-0 in the Rugby Union international here Saturday, scoring in the first half.

France, still a point behind Scotland, will win the championship if it defeats Ireland in Paris April 14.

Fourth-place Wales plays last-place Ireland in the season's only remaining game April 28.

City Veteran Loses In Black Belt Final

Agile Bob Horti won the coveted black belt championship in the Victoria Judo Club's centennial tournament Saturday by scoring a half-point decision over Victoria veteran Lanki Inouye.

Performing at Club Sirocco before a crowd of almost 400 fans, the 20-year-old Vancouver judo ace used an uchigatari (leg throw) against his more experienced rival to pick up the half point that made this difference in the final for the ANAF Vets Trophy.

Vancouver's K. Tsumura won intercept a bad pass from half-back Dick Hamilton to slip the ball into the Royals' net.

B.C. all-star centre forward Art Hughes, who came out of retirement to play in the unaccustomed position of centre halfback for the Firefighters, did a fine job of holding Royals' high-scoring forward Tony Crisp. The Royal centre failed to get a good shot on goal during the entire game.

Alberni Booter Stars In Debut With Kickers

It didn't take Hourigan's Kickers long to collect a big dividend after they plucked Bert Urner from Alberni booting ranks.

Urner, a standout with Port Alberni 64s, who lost to Gorge Hotel in the Vancouver Island zone final of the Province Cup competition, played his first game for Kickers at Heywood Avenue Sunday.

He looked like money in the bank in a tough battle with Victoria West, booting one of the goals that enabled Kickers to trip the Wests 2-1 and retain a share of first place in the Victoria and District Football League.

Both goalkeepers—Vic West's Dave Unwin and Brian Lindsay of Kickers, turned in fine games as Wests, outplayed in the opening half, took over after the intermission and threatened to pull out a victory.

Harry Gibbs and Urner tallied for Kickers while Whitey Wakelyn scored for the Green-shirts.

TWO FOR CONSTABLE

Evcoes, getting two goals from veteran Charlie Constable, blanked a stubborn Ladysmith side 2-0 at Central Park to remain in a first-place deadlock with Kickers.

Gorge, which next Saturday meets Vancouver Firefighters' "B" squad in a Province Cup match at Royal Athletic Park, squeezed out a 2-1 decision over Nanaimo to stay in a fourth-place tie with Canadian Scottish.

Scottish racked up a 7-2 vic-

RETURNING for another Inter-City Lacrosse League season is veteran Whitey Severson, only player in ICLL history to score more than 1,000 points. Severson again scrapped retirement plans over the weekend, signing for 1962 season with Victoria Shamrocks.

Victoria High School pupils, giving their Totems a rousing welcome today, might also have taken time to toast the coaching strategy of George Andrews.

Totems earned the adulation when they upstaged the form at Vancouver Saturday and captured their second provincial high school basketball title by tripping highly-favored Vancouver College in a 38-34 thriller.

They beat a club that was rated the powerhouse of the annual tournament. College came into the tourney with a record of four provincial crowns, had never been beaten in the B.C. final.

GRABBED EARLY LEAD

During the season, the clubs had split a pair of exhibition games, Totems winning 77-70 at home and losing 38-41 at Vancouver. But Vic High, which three years ago became the first Vancouver Island team to win the B.C. title, finished third in this year's Island playoffs and wasn't rated a serious threat to the Vancouver College machine.

The odds didn't mean a thing to Totems Saturday.

Totems led 10-4 at the quarter, 18-14 at the half and 31-21 going into the final eight minutes.

College suddenly surged within two points. The crowd waited for Totems to panic. But the Vics played like veterans, refusing to abandon their deliberate patterns or to throw the ball away and struck back for their four-point win.

CREDIT TO ALL

Nobody was more eager than Andrews to praise the Totems.

"They had a terrific first quarter and never played better," Andrews beamed Sunday. "I was proud of them."

"Their play and behavior was perfect. Totems were a credit to the school and to Victoria."

This season Andrews brought his charges along slowly, without worrying about results in midseason.

"Last year," he said, "we worked too hard to win exhibition games and weren't at our best at the end of the season. This year, I just played exhibition games as they came along and pointed the club for the tournament. The system worked."

Andrews went all the way in Saturday's final with five players—Ash Waldal, Neil Worboys, Rick Barnswell, John Lauvaas and Ken Gregory. Lauvaas set the pace with 17 points, Worboys added

FOUR CITED

The Totems picked up additional honors when Waldal was named to the first all-star team and Gregory and Lauvaas were selected to the second all-star squad. Worboys received honorable mention.

Vancouver Side Trips Tourists

VANCOUVER — New Zealand's Combined Universities rugby team will be shooting for revenge here Tuesday in a match against the B.C. All-Stars.

Unbeaten in the first eight games of their 10-game tour of California and British Columbia, the New Zealanders had their skein snapped here Saturday. Hampered all the way by a battling band of Vancouver forwards, the Kiwis suffered a 3-0 setback at the hands of the Vancouver Rugby Union All-Stars.

The students wind up their trip with Tuesday's match against the provincial side, which will be bolstered by three Victoria aces but comprised mainly of Vancouver players who tripped the tourists Saturday.

DEFENSIVE BATTLE

Vancouver won the rugged defensive battle on a 30-yard penalty goal by fullback Barry Burnham midway in the second half. The 24-year-old Burnham broke a scoreless deadlock with 21 minutes remaining, splitting the uprights with a difficult kick from near the touch line after the Kiwis had been called for offside.

Vancouver earned the decision by containing New Zealand's fleet, high-scoring backfield and holding a decided edge in forward play.

Playing before about 4,000 fans on a soggy pitch, the clubs were hampered by uncertain footing and a slippery ball.

LATE SURGE

Making their usual late surge, the visitors came close to pulling out at least a tie in the final five minutes, but determined Vancouver tackling stopped several dangerous movements just short of the goal line.

New Zealand team manager, Bryce Rope, hoping to reverse the decision in Tuesday's match, was quick to give the Vancouver side full credit for the triumph.

"They deserved the victory," he said. "Their forward line was terrific."

St. Louis and First United Collect Basketball Crowns

St. Louis College and First United collected titles Saturday in the provincial pre-midget basketball tournament at the Fellowship Hall of First United Church.

St. Louis captured the boys' championship with a 21-11 victory over First United in the final round of the day-long tourney. St. Andrew's took the consolation final with a 26-16 triumph over Sayward.

First United's Chris Hall was named the most valuable player in the boys' division.

First United romped to the championship in the girls' section, trimming Cordova Bay 35-8 in the final. Duncan

Penalty Try Paves Way To Barnard Cup Victory

It's shaping up as another battle between Oak Bay Wanderers and Vancouver Kats in the Rounsdel Cup final for the B.C. first division rugby crown.

Wanderers took the Victoria Rugby Union title for the fourth successive year at Macdonald Park Saturday by downing James Bay Athletic Association 8-5 in the Barnard Cup final. Kats, the current provincial champs, are expected to retain their Vancouver crown.

A penalty try awarded to Bill Murray when the Oarsmen were called for obstruction behind their own goal line helped Wanderers to the decision. Don Burgess booted the conversion and also kicked a penalty goal to give Oak Bay an 8-0 lead at the half.

James Bay points came on a try by Adam Lissick and a conversion by Gordie Hemmingway.

In the city second division final Saturday at Macdonald

FORD AIRLANE

FEATURES OF THE FAIRLANE SILENT RIDE

The Fairlane's quiet ride is the result of solid single-unit construction, extra insulation, and four new torque boxes.

SINGLE-UNIT CONSTRUCTION

The floor, sides and roof are all welded together into one solid unit for a new level of quiet comfort.

EXTRA INSULATION

IS EVERYWHERE AROUND YOU For example: a thick fibreglass blanket in the roof... a 1/2-inch layer of amberlite plus-asphalt deadener between the trunk and passenger compartment... over 1-inch of insulating materials under the floor covering.

FOUR NEW TORQUE BOXES

Built into the corners of the passenger compartment are four torque boxes that help eliminate road noise and vibrations before they reach the car's interior.

FAIRLANE IS THE NEW STANDARD SIZE FORD

You know about the big cars, the small cars, the compact cars. Now there is a new standard size car—and the leader in this new class of car is the Fairlane. It fits right between the big cars and the compacts. Fairlane is a foot longer than the average compact... and a foot shorter than the average big car. Its wheelbase is 6.1" longer than a compact... 3.5" shorter than a big car. In terms of interior roominess, Fairlane is as large as many big cars of a few short years ago. And Fairlane gives you something most other cars lack completely—Ford's famous Twice-a-Year Maintenance Features. Price? ... Actually less than some compacts. Size it up for yourself—Fairlane—the new standard size Ford.

CONSECRATION AT CATHEDRAL

'If 12,000 Enjoy Yukon, So Can I,' Says New Bishop

By NORMAN CRIBBENS
The great bells of Christ Church Cathedral pealed out over the city Sunday with the consecration of Canon Henry Hooper Marsh of Toronto as Bishop of the Yukon.

More than 1,400 men, women and children, with Lieutenant-Governor George Fearnley, witnessed the stately ceremony conducted by Archbishop Harold Sexton with the assistance of bishops and clergy from all parts of the province.

HUGE DIOCESE

The age-old ritual of consecration was illuminated by the thought that Bishop Marsh—a fifth-generation Canadian—was taking over a vast snowy diocese of 200,000 square miles. He succeeds Rt. Rev. Thomas Greenwood, who retired from the Yukon recently to become Assistant Bishop of Chester, England.

The high altar was a blaze of color as the bishops in their white and scarlet robes formed a semicircle around the Archbishop's chair and laid their hands on the head of the newly-elected bishop.

According to custom, Bishop

Marsh knelt beside the altar rail in a plain purple cassock and did not put on any of his episcopal vestments until he had taken the oath of obedience from Mr. Justice R. A. Wootton as chancellor of the provincial synod.

Archbishop Sexton, wearing the full ceremonial robes of his office, then put to him the traditional questions:

"Will you deny all ungodliness and worldly lusts and live soberly, righteously and godly in this present world?"

"I will so do, by the help of God."

"Will you shew yourself gentle, and be merciful for Christ's sake to poor and needy people, and to all strangers destitute of help?"

"I will so shew myself, by God's help."

After the laying on of hands, the archbishop presented Bishop Marsh with the Bible. Then followed the delivery of the pastoral staff and the investiture with the pectoral cross and ring, the Archbishop saying:

"Let this staff be sign to thee of the authority of the Great Shepherd and Bishop of Souls, in Whose Name and by Whose Grace thou wilt tend the flock committed to thy care."

LITANY SUNG

The service opened with a solemn procession around the aisles of the church led by the Crucifer, during which the Litany was sung by choir and clergy.

The clergy then took their places in the nave on both sides of the main aisle while the archbishop performed the office of Holy Communion and the bishop-elect was conducted to the chancel steps by his attendant priests.

In his sermon, Bishop F. H. Wilkinson emphasized that Bishop Marsh had been called to high office in a northerly and adventurous realm.

The history of the church in Canada is a history of adventure, and the church must continue in that spirit if we are to extend God's Kingdom over the face of the earth."

FROM TORONTO

Bishop Marsh, 63, a native of Lindsay, Ont., was formerly rector of St. Timothy's Church, Toronto.

"If 12,000 people can enjoy life in the Yukon, so can I," he said. "I shall continue to try to bring people closer to God and closer to one another in faith and fellowship."

Porous Windbreak Does Better Job!

SASKATOON (CP)—A porous windbreak offers more protection than a solid one, it has been found in tests at the University of Saskatchewan.

Investigation showed a 20-per cent porosity is desirable.

This means a cattle pen could be made of eight-inch boards with two inches of space between them. Although wind blows through the spaces, it is calmer inside than if the wind tumbles over a solid wall.

Air spilling over a solid wall creates a general turbulence inside the pen that makes the area colder. Therefore, if cattle are more than three feet from a porous wall, they are more sheltered—warmer—than if they were at any spot behind a non-porous barrier.

Other experiments showed that grain loss from farm trucks can be cut by a simple, inexpensive porous windbreak in front of the box, above the cab. On a calm day almost no grain blew away until the truck's speed was 60 miles an hour.

Slaying Verdict Upheld by Court

OTTAWA (CP)—Supreme Court of Canada upheld lower court judgments today convicting 51-year-old Arthur James Kendall of killing his wife in a lonely Bruce Peninsula cabin in August, 1952, and disposing of her body.

He is scheduled to be hanged April 17.

Six Die in Crash

FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—A station wagon and an auto collided Friday night, killing six persons including teen-aged twin sisters and three other youngsters. Nine other persons were injured.

VICTIM'S DAUGHTER SAYS 'NO'

Did Dog Kill Mistress?

VANCOUVER (CP)—Is Baron guilty of cold-blooded capital murder?

Could the large, six-year-old German shepherd have viciously attacked and killed his beloved mistress March 10?

Many dog lovers in the Great Vancouver area are giving an emphatic no to the question.

Among the defenders is Mrs. Grace Sutcliffe who found the lacerated body of her mother, Mrs. Rose Watson, in the middle of the mother's living room in suburban Burnaby.

At an inquest last week, pathologist Dr. Eric Robertson said Mrs. Watson, 72, died because her windpipe was crushed and the main artery in her throat was severed. There were jagged wounds on her face and shoulder.

Mrs. Sutcliffe testified there was no sign of a struggle. The dog, a pet of Mrs. Watson's since he was a pup, was his usual friendly self when she walked into the kitchen of her mother's home. The inquest was adjourned pending a test on the dog for rabies.

CLUE TO DEATH?

Mrs. Sutcliffe said her mother suffered from hardening of the arteries, had had a heart attack and occasionally lost her balance and fell. The dog lovers have jumped on this.

In a weekend demonstration, dog fancier Pedro Rose grabbed his three-year-old German shepherd by the throat and fell to the ground, trying to imitate an elderly person suffering from one of her periodic collapses. The dog attempted to shake off Mr. Rose's hand and when he failed, bared his teeth and lunged for its master's throat.

Mr. Rose said the demonstration proved to him that Baron was innocent. He said it indicated that if Mrs. Watson had collapsed and grabbed Baron's neck, the dog would have attacked.

MP Lashes Socreds For 'Abuse of Power'

Bill 85
Immoral —Hellyer

A federal Member of Parliament today branded B.C.'s new power legislation as "quite immoral."

Paul Hellyer, Liberal MP for Trinity, and former associate defence minister, said it was the sort of action that should make a government fall.

Mr. Hellyer, here for a Liberal nominating convention, was commenting on Bill 85, now before the provincial legislature, which would ban any court action on the compensation paid by B.C. for the B.C. Electric.

The legislation would be retroactive, wiping out a court case already in process.

'ABUSE OF POWER'

"To use retroactive legislation to take away the rights of people is an abuse of power—an abuse of the legislative process," said Mr. Hellyer.

"It is changing the rules of the game part way through the game, and this to me is the offensive part of it."

Mr. Hellyer said there has been other legislation in other provinces which has been flagrant.

"What I fear most is that it's getting to be a habit. Although what's being done here is an extreme case."

Mr. Hellyer said the only way a government can be prevented from such action is "by the people rising up in righteous anger."

Home Shelter Aid Proposed

Turning to world affairs, Mr. Hellyer said if the cold war continues unchecked much longer, Canada's national government should launch a program of financial assistance for home fall-out shelters.

Mr. Hellyer said the government in Ottawa—whether Conservative or Liberal—will have to face this decision soon.

It would have to be a national program of financial support to persons building shelters.

Mr. Hellyer roared the Conservatives for refusing to make a decision on acquiring nuclear weapons for Canadian forces.

COMPROMISED

Canada's position had been compromised, he said, by a half-billion dollar program started three years ago to provide an aerial strike force of F-104 aircraft for NATO in Europe.

And yet the Conservative government still has not told NATO if it will allow these aircraft to be equipped with nuclear weapons.

Mr. Hellyer said that now there are only two possible courses:

To equip the European-based aircraft with nuclear weapons but to refuse to allow them on Canadian soil;

Or to give the strike force to the U.S. outright and start over again building a non-nuclear Canadian force.

Q. What was the French Hospital in Victoria? E. M.

A. In 1860 the French Hospital was opened by the French Benevolent and Mutual Aid Society to care for its members. It was later merged into the Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Q. I think that the carving of the three monkeys, one covering his eyes, one his ears, and the other his mouth, are well known to everyone. Could you tell me if this symbol is known by any particular name? M. A. S.

A. In English they are known as the simian trinity, symbolizing a warning for mankind to stay away from worldly evils. In Japanese the three monkeys are called: Mikazaru (do not see), Kikazaru (do not hear), Ywazaru (do not speak). The original carvings may be seen at a temple in Nikko, Japan.

Knives Used By Thugs In Holdups

'I'm Desperate
—I Need Money'

Two Victorians reported to city police Saturday night they had been held up at knife-point in the downtown area.

Reginald Dove, 594 Taft, told police he was robbed of his wallet containing $4 and his wrist watch by two men at Langley and Bastion at about 8.45 p.m.

He said he was grabbed around the neck from behind and told: "Give me your wallet. I have a knife at your back."

Another man appeared in front of him, grabbed his wallet and wrist watch and then both men fled.

TM DESPERATE

An hour and a half later James Kirtan, 859 Cormorant, said he was grabbed from behind. At first he thought it was a joke by a friend but then his assailant said: "I have a knife, drop your wallet. I'm desperate — I need money."

Mr. Kirtan said he told the youth he was getting himself into trouble and eventually persuaded him to go away.

City police could not say whether the incidents were connected.

Man, Wife Die Within 15 Hours

A man and his wife who died within 15 hours of one another will be buried together on Tuesday.

Mrs. Winnifred Elsie Harding died on Saturday in St. Mary's Hospital, John Harding followed his wife 15 hours later, dying at the Veterans' Hospital. Both had entered hospital at the same time seven weeks ago.

Mr. Harding, 82, was born in England and had been a resident of Victoria since 1912. He was a city employee with the Victoria waterworks department.

LIVED AT SOOKE

Mrs. Harding, his second wife, also was born in England, coming to Victoria in 1944. She was 74. They made their home in Sooke.

Mr. Harding fought in the Boer War with the 66th Royal Berkshire regiment. He was a member of the Over 60 club and the Canadian Legion of Sooke.

Surviving are his three sons William and Frank in Victoria and John in Halifax, and a daughter Ellen Lawson of the Northwest Territories. There are 10 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

The double funeral will take place on Tuesday at 3.30 p.m. at McCall Bros' Funeral Chapel, Rev. Douglas Kendall officiating. Interment will follow in Colwood Burial Park.

SAANICHTON PRINCESS STARTS TOUR

A five-week tour of eight South American countries starts next Wednesday for Canada's Dairy Princess, Clara Taylor, 2973 McIntyre Road, Saanichton.

The 20-year-old Saanichton girl won the trip when she was named the nation's Dairy Princess at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto last September.

Her travelling companion on the tour will be Margaret Sheppy of Sidney, a South Saanich public health nurse.

They will visit Bogota, Colombia, on April 5; Quito, Ecuador, April 8; Lima, Peru, April 10; Santiago, Chile, April 12; Buenos Aires, Argentina, April 16; Montevideo, Uruguay, April 18; Rio de Janeiro, April 19; Caracas, Venezuela, April 22.

From Caracas, Miss Taylor and her escort will fly to Miami, Florida, before returning home via New York and Toronto. They are due back here on May 6.

Roof Rescue Ends in Death

A 69-year-old city man was rescued by firemen from the roof of a Pandora Avenue apartment building where he had suffered a stroke Saturday evening—only to die in hospital a few hours later.

George Carr was apparently taken ill while repairing a television aerial on the roof of Venture Apartments, 735 Pandora, where he was caretaker.

He was believed to have been unconscious on the roof for at least two hours after suffering a stroke.

An aerial ladder crew and an inhalator crew from the city fire department carried out the rescue. They strapped the unconscious man to a stretcher and lowered him 50 feet to the ground.

He died in St. Joseph's Hospital on Sunday.

4-H Club Director Going To New Post in Rangoon

BC's farm organization for young people will lose its popular director at the end of the month.

Rod C. Bailey has resigned as B.C. supervisor of 4-H clubs to take up a position in Rangoon, Burma, under the Food and Agricultural Organization of United Nations.

He will leave Victoria on April 1.

Before taking over 4-H work in the province two years ago, the 33-year-old agriculturist served as a technician under the Canadian Colombo Plan in Thailand.

His new job will be assisting the Burmese department of agriculture in extension work. He will be away for a period not exceeding two years. His wife and two children will accompany him.

A graduate of the University of British Columbia, Mr. Bailey is formerly of Okotoks, Alberta.

Appointment of a new supervisor of 4-H clubs has not yet been announced by the government.

DAMAGE WAS HEAVY to city prowler car in a two-car collision at Bay and Quadra Streets Saturday afternoon. Officer at car door is Cons. Russell Redman, the driver at the time of the mis-

City Prowler Car in Crash As Wet Streets Take Toll

A rash of accidents Saturday and Sunday sent several persons to hospital with minor injuries and kept police hopping all over the city.

Majority of the injuries occurred Saturday night or early Sunday when roads were still greasy after several hours rain.

On Saturday afternoon John F. Bowers, of 3485 Seymour, was treated for abrasions and shock at St. Joseph's Hospital after his car collided with one driven by Donald Charlie of Koksilah at Bay and Government. Mr. Bowers was released after treatment.

At 2.45 p.m. city police Cons. Russell Redman, 1037 Fean, was treated at Royal Jubilee Hospital for knee abrasions following a collision between his prowler car and a car driven by Gerald Goesbriano, 1916 Davie.

Police said the prowler car was heading south on Quadra and the other west on Bay when the collision occurred. Both vehicles were heavily damaged.

Three more collisions followed in quick succession after midnight.

A car driven north on Blanshard by Dixon Longstaff, 556 Hillside, collided with a parked car, went out of control, and then struck a car being driven south on Blanshard by Quin Cok Lowe, 2617 Blanshard.

Mr. Lowe, Michael Lum and Brian Chong, also of 2317 Blanshard, were taken to St. Joseph's Hospital and treated for cuts and bruises.

Saanich police reported that at about 1 a.m. a car driven west on Burnside by Robert Craigdallie, 3716 Harriet, collided with the guard rail near the intersection, with the Trans-Canada Highway.

Craigdallie and a passenger

Miss Gerry McKay, 1047 Lodge, were admitted to St. Joseph's with facial injuries. Both have now been released. Police estimated damage to the car at $1,000.

A freak accident at 1.45 a.m. Sunday put Edward Lynn Thomas Mackenzie, 3855 Saanich, in St. Joseph's with slight injuries.

WRONG SIDE

City police said Mr. Mackenzie was driving east on Richardson when he was forced to swerve to avoid colliding with a small car being driven on the wrong side of the road.

The swerve, he told police, forced him into a parked car. The small car, containing three girls and carrying Washington licence plates, stopped briefly and then carried on.

HIT AGAIN

As Mr. Mackenzie stood in the roadway at the rear of his car, both he and the vehicle were struck again, this time by a car being driven east by Thomas Kavanagh, 131 Kamloops. There was heavy damage all around, police said.

About $650 total damage resulted when a car driven on Fernside Road by Dorothy Smith, 1452 Fairfield, collided with the car ahead driven by Richard Jones, 2151 Neil. A passenger Mrs. Jesse Kenward, 841 Victoria, was admitted to Royal Jubilee Hospital for a few hours.

The accident occurred at 3.20 p.m. Sunday.

HIT BUILDING

Shortly after 9 a.m. today Mrs. Margaret Snyder, 1639 Hampshire, told city police she collided with the side of an apartment building at 1960 Fort.

She said she was turning on to Trent Street from Fort when she heard a door rattling in the car and turned round to warn the three young children in the car.

While she did this her car left the road and struck the building's west wall.

A spring fair will be held by the Colquitz Junior High School PTA on Friday at 8 p.m. in the school. Stalls, games, and refreshments will be featured.

NATIONAL Social Credit Leader Robert Thompson will visit Victoria for a rest April 1 after meetings in Kamloops, March 29; Vancouver and New Westminster, March 30, and Nanaimo, March 31. From Victoria Mr. Thompson will go to Penticton and Trail, April 2.

No Need To Be in the Dark With Inexpensive Lantern

By PENNY SAVER

From the young lad with a bicycle, to the motorist with a flat tire or the farmer who has after-dark chores, there's nothing more necessary than a good light.

Light I've seen measures about five inches high and has a large front light, a red blinker light on top and a carrying handle and a slot that fits on a bracket for the front of bikes.

Both lights operate on separate switches. Don't you agree that this light would be invaluable to have around? Price, which includes two regular flashlight batteries, is only $1.95.

Girls will love the three-piece play set I've seen. It has a slit neck, pop-over top with short sleeves and "V" point bottom at front and back. There's also a matching cord tie belt. Top is $2.95.

Slim pants come to just below the knee and feature side slits on the cuffs and a side zipper. Price is $3.49 as is the price for the smart straight skirt with side zipper that is also available.

Sets come in a choice of blue, green and brown pattern or purple, magenta and green.

Especially good for travelling, one could wear slims for driving and slip into the skirt when stopping to shop or for lunch.

Also good for travelling is a chapel veil—if stopping to go to church is on the agenda, you'll have a dainty hat that folds into a small plastic container and fits into a handbag, easily. Made of French lace this attractive circular veil that fits coyly on the crown is in black or white and sells for 99 cents.

No matter what your plans are for this summer, you'll be well prepared with these items. Want to know where to find them? Call me and I'll tell you.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Use Some Sense, Men—You're Not Really Tough

Many men have a tendency to neglect their health. They may feel that it is pampering themselves to take sensible precautions and care of their physical well-being. Perhaps men as well as women would profit by a list with which to check themselves. Try this one.

Lowman

1. Do you have periodic checkups by your physician and your dentist? This is extremely important, especially from middle age on. Many men procrastinate because they feel that they do not have time and that it is money uselessly spent. This is far from the truth.

Such examinations may save you time and money. They may save years of life for you. The progress of so many chronic diseases can be halted or controlled if got at early enough. Conditions which lead to them may be spotted early enough to avoid them entirely.

2. Do you see to it that you get some regular exercise every day?

3. Do you keep track of your weight and lose the first five or ten pounds too much?

4. Do you take your work home with you? If this is absolutely necessary, relax for a couple of hours when you first get home. Make the dinner hour one of companionship and pleasure.

5. Do you eat too hurriedly? It is most important for the digestive system to eat in pleasant relaxed surroundings with happy talk. Save problems and decisions for some other time.

6. Do you have some hobby or creative interest entirely dissociated from your work? Just these six simple tenets will be most helpful. Remember that the idea that men are the tougher sex has been exploded. Women outlive men and are less susceptible to most of the disease of middle age and older.

If your husband is overweight, you can bring him down by 10 to 12 pounds in 12 days without starving him or ruining his disposition. It tells how to do it in my booklet, TUBBY HUBBY DIET, and it's yours for 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Address your request to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

7. Coffee party, Women's Auxiliary to the Victoria Branch of the Navy League of Canada, Wednesday 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. in Hudson's Bay, white elephant stall, door prize. Proceeds for life jackets for Navy League cadets.

8. Sewing bee, Royal Canadian Legion Women's Auxiliary No. 6, home of Mrs. H. Jarvis, 1239 Vista Heights, Wednesday at 2 p.m.

NS-290 DRESS $1.00
NS-291 JACKET $.50

Fontana of Italy

Marking the new feminine direction in, out or around town, for spring and summer, day or evening, the costume advantages of this refreshing Fontana design are finely outlined by widely spaced pin stripes. Bordered with a solid color that matches their background, the stripes dramatize the jacket's straight and slender flow. Then, with the same dashing know-how, they are used for the dress bodice which skims below the waistline with an easy-tempered fit and joins to solid skirt. The jacket is fastened with a flyfront closing and left unlined for the quickest easiest sewing. Although stripes and solid in bright navy and white cotton were an exciting combination for the original design, don't let this limit your own ideas regarding this charming outfit. We suggest solids, prints or stripes in lightweight flannel or quilting silks, linen or cottons. Also, very new and exciting this season is the mating of two different size checks in the same color pattern; use the smaller check where we've indicated stripes on our sketch. From these corresponding body measurements, select the size best for you. Our sizing is comparable to that used for better-ready-to-wear.

Funds Raised by Luncheon

Nosegays of spring flowers decorated individual tables when the Victoria Chapter, Order of DeMolay, Mothers' Circle, held a luncheon in the Hudson's Bay Douglas Room, Thursday. Flowers were also massed on the stage. All were arranged by Mrs. R. C. McKeand.

Sum of $110.50 was realized and will be used for chapter work. Mrs. Gordon F. Grant and Mrs. William Boorman convoked sale of ceramics and netted proceeds of $93.45. This will be donated to the building fund. Guests were greeted by Mrs. M. Simpson, president, and Mrs. D. J. Dakers. Mrs. G. H. Staid was in charge of tickets. Serviteurs were headed by Mrs. T. H. Marlowe. Assisting her were Mrs. L. C. Arnold, Mrs. H. Kelly, Mrs. R. Smith, Mrs. W. D. Tindall, Mrs. V. Peddie, Mrs. Wicks and Mrs. J. B. Allen. Mrs. Bert Fox and Mrs. Kersop were in charge of tea and coffee urns.

DEAR ABBY...

You Hit Pay Dirt, Brother!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a man of 53 and I've been keeping company with a widow for two years. She is 47, good-looking and lots of fun. She upped and left town last December and didn't come back until February. She said she went to Detroit to visit her sister. I found out she really went to Miami and married a 77-year-old man. She finally admitted it, but said she only married him for his money, which she wouldn't have to wait very long for because he was in poor health. She said she had no intentions of living with him. She wants to continue our relationship and run down to Florida now and then to look in on her husband. And, as soon as he dies, she'll marry me. I am so shocked, I don't know what to do. This woman is a big disappointment, but she sure has a hold on me.

SUCKER. DEAR SUCKER: Can't you see she is a gold digger, or must she hit you on the head with the shovel? If you want to stick around and hold her hand until her husband dies, that's your business. But if I were you, I'd head for the hills.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of an army officer who has the gall to ask his wife to ship his brass every morning?

MAJOR'S WIFE. DEAR WIFE: I think he ought to be decorated for "courage."

DEAR ABBY: I recently had a baby. We sent no announcements, but I received a $5 bill in the mail from a dear little old lady who had been a friend of my mother's for many years. With it was a note congratulating me and asking me to buy the baby a gift from her. She is a widow, in poor health and needs the money so badly herself. It tugged at my heart to receive a $5 bill from someone like her. Should I send it back with a note explaining now I feel? I wouldn't hurt her feelings for the world.

DEBATING. DEAR DEBATING: Don't return the $5. Thank her warmly, and remember her with a gift at Easter or on Mother's Day, or for no special occasion at all.

CONFIDENTIAL TO HOSIERY MANUFACTURERS: Look out, my mail has been loaded lately with ladies screaming for nylon hose that don't pop with the first wearing.

Stop worrying. Let Abby help you with that problem. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Dot West says...

IT REALLY IS — AS EASY AS APPLE PIE

Line pan with pastry. Cut peeled apples into eighths. Pack pan, starting at centre and proceeding, circular fashion, until pan is full, two rows deep. Mix:

1/4 teaspoon cinnamon 1/4 cup brown sugar
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg 1/4 teaspoon salt

Sprinkle over top. Dot with butter or margarine. Cover with upper crust. Insert tip of paring knife and twist, then pull out, repeating several times. Brush with milk. Bake at 450° for 10 minutes. Reduce heat to 350° and bake until evenly browned (about 30 minutes).

Tip: Twisting the inserted paring knife in the upper crust causes openings large enough for the steam to escape, and prevents the baked apple pie with a "tent" in the top of the crust.

Delicious for eating, pies and applesauce

Liberals Choose School Principal

DUNCAN — John Saywell, principal of Lake Cowichan High School, has been chosen Liberal candidate to contest the Nanaimo riding in the next federal election.

He was named Saturday at a nomination convention here. He defeated two other nominees, Ald. Doug Greer of Nanaimo, and Gil Humphrey of Salt Spring Island.

Guest speaker at the meeting was Paul Hellyer, Toronto MP and Liberal defence critic. He predicted the election will be held on June 4.

LADYSMITH—Members of Branch 171, Royal Canadian Legion, Ladysmith, are conducting a "blitz" today on behalf of the Canadian Red Cross Society.

J. V. Plat, Legion past president and chairman and organizer of the campaign for funds, said the objective is $1,100.

CHEMAINUS—R. R. Pattison has been re-elected president of the Chemainus, Crofton and district Chamber of Commerce.

Other officers elected were Walter Check, first vice-president; Stuart Clement, second vice-president, and Mrs. M. B. Robinson, secretary-treasurer.

PORT ALBERNI—Pleading guilty in police court Saturday to a charge of unlawfully selling liquor, Joseph Wilfred Gagne, a longshoreman, was fined $300.

He also pleaded guilty to possessing stolen goods. The court imposed a nine-month suspended sentence on the possession charge and ordered 28 cases of liquor confiscated.

PORT ALBERNI—A painting by Richard Cicimara of Victoria, won first prize at the second art exhibition of the Alberni Valley Art Group. Second prize went to Aileen Devereaux, of Alberni.

Receiving honorable mention were Sailboats, pasted, by Phil Harrison, Port Alberni; Subdivision, watercolor, Peggy Larson, Victoria; Reclining, oil, Herbert Siebner, Victoria; Bright Day-Hornby Island, watercolor, Alice Allin, Victoria.

CAMPBELL RIVER — Rex Holloway, secretary-treasurer of School District 72 for more than four years, will retire in May.

CAMPBELL RIVER — Students at Campbell River junior-senior high school will have a good opportunity next month to obtain first hand information about the vocation they plan to follow.

The Rotary Club, in conjunction with the staff of the school, is completing plans for a "career-exposition" to be held on April 18.

Fifty different retail and industrial businesses and professions will take part in the exposition and explain to interested students the future each career offers and the necessary education required.

CAMPBELL RIVER — Although far short of enough donations and pledges are on hand for the 1962 working budget, the Chamber of Commerce tourist and publicity committee will gamble on further backing and order reprinting of brochures and folders.

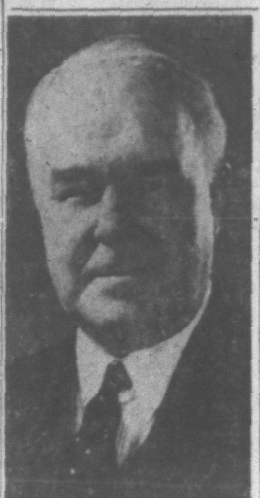

Response to recent investment appeal letters has been slow and only $954 has been donated to date.

Brochures alone will cost $1,300 and the committee's budget for the year has been estimated at $3,170.

Harold McKelg was appointed chairman of a committee to canvass business for support.

COURTENAY—A total of 12 briefs are expected to be submitted to the Wednesday hearing here of the Angus Royal Commission enquiring into the salmon run drop on the Puntledge River.

The department of fisheries and the B.C. Hydro have already presented their briefs to Dr. H. F. Angus at hearings two weeks ago in Vancouver.

SPEAKER at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Chambers and Pandora, Tuesday at 8 p.m., will be Keith A. Plimmer of London, England. His subject is "Christian Science: the Discovery of the Healing Christ." Born at Pough, West Australia, Mr. Plimmer left the teaching profession in 1934 to enter the public practice of Christian Science healing.

Cancer Scare Closes Plant

LONDON (CP)—Sobranie, a cigarette manufacturing firm, notified its workers Saturday they are being put on half-pay and that the company's London factory is being closed for two weeks.

Financial circles said the action was a result of the widely publicized report of the Royal College of Physicians, which held that evidence that cigarette smoke causes lung cancer is overwhelming.

Percy Belcher, general secretary of the Tobacco Workers' Union, said the Sobranie workers apparently must accept the company's decision. Since the physicians' report, cigarette sales in Britain have dropped sharply.

Reuther Makes Plea For Displaced Help

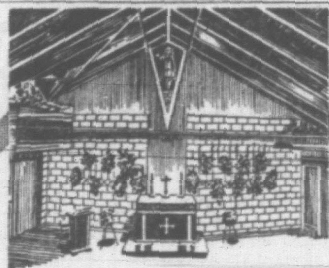

DETROIT (AP)—President of the United Auto Workers Union, Walter Reuther, has called on industry to encourage movement of production workers into white collar jobs.

Reuther laid down his proposal during the weekend in a letter to the heads of 20 companies in the automotive, aircraft and agricultural implement fields, in which production workers are represented by the UAW.

"The ability to do white collar work is largely a matter of education and training," Reuther said. "The educational gap between blue-collar and white collar workers has been narrowing in recent years."

Included in the UAW's proposal is a suggestion that each company declare that qualified production workers will be given preference over persons not employed by the company in filling white collar vacancies.

Also, that all production workers employed, or laid off from, each company be offered an opportunity to file applications for white collar jobs in which they are interested and which they believe themselves capable of performing.

BCE Loses First Rounds In Court

VANCOUVER (CP)—The British Columbia Power Corporation won more preliminary skirmishes today in pretrial issues arising from its court case against expropriation of the B.C. Electric Company.

The court dismissed three BCE appeals against Supreme Court decisions affecting the case.

The court then went into consideration of a BCE appeal against the Supreme Court order of last week which placed a receiver to guard the assets of the company pending the outcome of the court cases.

The appeal court unanimously rejected a BCE appeal against a Supreme Court order giving the Power Corporation, parent of the BCE until the government, expropriated it last August, access to BCE property for valuation purposes.

A majority of the court rejected an appeal against an order to hand over certain documents to the power corporation for trial purposes and turned down a BCE claim that a portion of the corporation's statement of claim should be stricken.

WILSON DISSENTS

Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson dissented on these two points.

The corporation has yet to lose an appeal against a court order concerned with the trial. In the court action, slated to start next month, the corporation is asking the Supreme Court to declare the takeover legislation invalid.

It asks the court to set compensation for the BCE should it find the takeover legal.

The government paid the corporation $111,000,000 for 3,000,000 BCE common shares last year. Under new legislation before the legislature the figure would be increased by $60,000,000.

The new legislation with-draws an offer contained in the August takeover bill to pay the power corporation $68,000,000—$38 a share—for its assets.

The Appeal Court decisions were handed down by Chief Justice A. C. DesBrisay, Mr. Justice F. A. Sheppard and Mr. Justice Wilson were the other members of the court.

Gromyko, Rusk Meet In New Try

GENEVA (AP)—State Secretary Dean Rusk of the U.S. conferred today with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in another attempt to keep the East-West disagreement on Berlin from deepening.

Their conference, in the privacy of the Soviet villa, took place on the eve of Rusk's scheduled return to Washington.

It occurred in an atmosphere of deadlock. The only known new proposal before them was Gromyko's plan for a vague international watch on the land, air and water corridors linking isolated West Berlin with West Germany 110 miles away.

In its present form that proposal is unacceptable to Rusk.

Today's meeting of the disarmament conference was put back until Tuesday because of the sudden death during the weekend of T. G. Narayanan, a United Nations official from India.

Canadian Cabinet Briefed By Heath on ECM Standing

By VICTOR J. MACKIE
Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA—September is reported to be the month proposed as the best month for holding a prime ministers' commonwealth conference on Britain's entry into the Common Market.

Edward Heath, British deputy foreign secretary conferred for one hour and a half with Prime Minister John Diefenbaker today, half an hour longer than scheduled. It is understood that Mr. Diefenbaker again put forward the case for a prime ministers' commonwealth conference, and heard the suggestion that September would be the most suitable period for such a meeting.

Mr. Diefenbaker said the negotiations at Brussels were thoroughly reviewed with Mr. Heath by a special committee of the Canadian cabinet later in a two-hour meeting under the chairmanship of the

French Catch Secret Army's No. 2 Man

(Times News Services)

ALGIERS—France dealt a severe blow to the die-hard advocates of the "French Algeria" today with the announcement that the number two man of the Secret Army Organization had been arrested in Oran.

The capture Sunday of Edmond Jouhaud, 56-year-old former air force general, was announced only after he was safely inside the gates of Sante prison in Paris. The secret army made a last-minute attempt to free him by attacking the barracks in Oran where he was first held.

Jouhaud was believed to have spent most of his time in Oran, a hotbed of "French Algeria" sentiment, since the abortive military coup in Algiers in April 1961.

Jouhaud was sentenced to death in absentia last summer for his part in the coup. Also sentenced to death for the vain plot was former General Raoul Salan, leader of the Secret Army and still at large somewhere in Algeria.

Trapped in Waterfront Building

Jouhaud and his staff were trapped in a building on the waterfront that had been under surveillance for some time. The house had been searched previously but without success.

The captives were transferred to a gendarmerie barracks. Minutes later a strong Secret Army commando group attacked the barracks. The French forces repelled the attack. One gendarme officer was killed and 18 gendarmes were wounded in the fighting.

Officials said Jouhaud was arrested Sunday about 4 p.m. It was not until about 10:30 p.m. that the police realized how big a catch they had made and his identification verified.

In addition to false papers in the name of Gerberd, Jouhaud had a moustache, a false beard, and was wearing civilian clothes. At the moment of the arrest, Jouhaud was in a meeting with 16 other persons.

About 10 of them were taken to the police headquarters. Only five were flown to Paris.

European Rioters Machine-Gunned

CP from Reuters-AP
ALGIERS—At least 25 persons were killed and about 150 injured today when French security forces machine-gunned European demonstrators who charged a police barricade in downtown Algiers.

One member of the security forces was killed and five were injured by fire from terrorist snipers.

The toll in dead and injured was announced by hospital officials dealing with the casualties, brought in by ambulance and truck after the 30-minute outbreak ended.

The victims were cut down by a heavy blast of machine-gun fire from a distance of about 15 yards.

The outbreak of firing came after a line of riot police on the Rue d'Isly was harassed by shots from snipers holed up in Finance Minister Fleming Trade Minister George Hees was at the meeting along with Agriculture Minister Alvin Hamilton who is recovering from a severe bout of illness. Mr. Fleming said the briefings by Mr. Heath had been "invaluable." He pointed out that they gave the government first-hand impressions and Mr. Heath's assessment of how the talks at Brussels had been going and the prospects for progress towards Britain ultimately joining the Common Market. Mr. Heath said the talks at Brussels "are gaining momentum," he indicated that important decisions would be reached after May 8.

When Mr. Heath emerged from the talks with the Prime Minister he said, "The Prime Minister ended our talks by declaring we have had a very good discussion, and with that comment I thoroughly agree."

Mr. Diefenbaker told reporters he had "no comment" to make.

THE ROCKET:

'Hull Won't Be Last To Score 50'

See page 12.

MONTREAL (CP)—Maurice (Rocket) Richard, retired Montreal Canadiens' great, said today he is convinced Chicago's Bobby Hull won't be the last player to score at least 50 goals in a National Hockey League season.

"One of these years, somebody may get as many as 55," Richard said. "But I doubt if it'll be possible to do better than that."

Richard was the first man to ever score 50 goals in a season—doing so in 1944-45 during a 50-game schedule. Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion, also of Canadiens, equaled the feat in 1960-61 and Hull got his 50th goal in Chicago's final game of the 1961-62 schedule which ended Sunday night. Geoffrion and Hull both played in 70-game slates.

Richard said he has but one wish—that his 50-goal mark in as many games always remains in the league's record books.

"Hull is the type of an athlete who could break many records," Richard added. "He possesses everything—physique, skating ability, shot and hockey instinct."

Geoffrion said: "You have to have a good streak and a lot of luck to get that many goals. I don't think it will happen again, not for a long time anyway."

Chopping Task For Aldermen

BY JOHN MIKA

Times City Hall Reporter

A potential tax increase of 10 mills resulting from proposed expenditure increase of almost $1,000,000 raised its head in City Hall today.

A big chunk of the increase is expected to survive although aldermen will chop frantically at the budget estimates and probably receive some help by a few offsetting revenue increases.

An initial summary of 1962 estimates presented by city comptroller James Bramley as the preliminary chopping began suggested an almost 20 per cent boost in last year's $3.4 mill rate.

Size of the possible increase is almost double the usual starting point for the annual aldermanic hatchet job on budgetary proposals.

Total proposed budget of $7,316,035 was presented at the start of committee consideration—excluding the social welfare, health and education items which will raise the book figures by at least $3,000,000.

The summary represents an increase of $826,126 over the comparable total set at the end of last year's budget session. This would make a rise in taxation of 10 mills on the basis computed this year indicating one mill will bring in $92,855 in revenue.

Last year, one mill raised $94,800.

Assessment Down $1.9 Million

The drop in value of the mill is one of the reasons for the potential increase, resulting from the new provincial assessment formula which saw the city's taxable assessment tumble by $1,997,000.

Most of the assessment cut-back was caused by government exemption of B.C. Electric property, B.C. Toll Highways Authority acquisitions and the B.C. Hydro holdings.

Depending on the size of still unrevealed government grants for B.C. Electric property, the city's cash loss from the assessment drop will range between $25,000 and $129,000.

"So our budget work begins with a big question mark," Mr. Bramley informed finance committee.

Other big items added to the budget estimates are: $120,000 to cover wage increases agreed to by council last week; $100,000 to start off the urban renewal program for north Blanshard Street; $70,000 for a new No. 2 firehall; and $50,000 for the centennial celebration.

Only about $25,000 to $50,000 is expected to be added this year to the 1961 school budget of $2,015,000, representing a fractional increase in the school mill rate of 18.6.

Almost all of any final increase will fall on the general purpose rate which was struck at 34.8 mills last year.

Total increase in the "ordinary" section of the budget—covering primarily maintenance accounts—will be about $263,340 including the $120,000 wage boost.

Bulk of the proposed increases fall within the $995,830 "special" section of the budget—covering new work and services.

Here's where most of the chopping will be done.

Last year, council cut back a large proposed program and voted only $408,044 for new projects.

However, this year it will have a harder time trimming the special section because it includes, besides new-items already mentioned, a total of $157,946 in grants (mainly for hospital, college and senior citizen build-up funds), and various off-delayed public works.

A fierce onslaught is expected to be met.

Centennial Flashback...

THIS DAY IN VICTORIA - 1862

MARCH 26

Wagon roads, those symbols of progress, are drawing much attention: A contract for $88,000 was today awarded Thomas Spence for a road from Boston Bar to Lytton City; Messrs. G. & B. Wright and company have already started work on a road from Lillooet to Mud Lake.

The latter firm is seeking up to 500 workmen, who will be hired for not less than two months, and paid in cash on the road at the end of their term of employment.

The Lyceum Theatre has been purchased by the proprietors of the French Hotel. The new owners announced today the place will be made over into a billiard saloon.

Work was completed today on cutting back the old post office building so it will no longer interfere with pedestrians using the west sidewalk on Government Street.

Neatest trick-of-the-week: When Cyril Chapman, manager of the Empress in Victoria, sends his friends postcards from Honolulu he marks them: "Private and Confidential."

Former mayor Percy Scourah and his wife are recent returnees from Hawaii. Telling friends the weather's really much better here.

Dickie Munn, the young professional who won the medal round in the Times Open golf tournament Sunday, was lining up his putt on the 18th hole at Uplands.

At this point he was three under par, and would score a 68 should the putt, about 12 feet, drop.

Back of the green behind Dick — where he couldn't see — a pretty young woman in black jacket, boots, and slacks turned her back to the green and looked across the road — not watching the putt.

She only turned when the crowd "ooohed" as the putt just lipped the cup.

Her name — Wendy Munn, Dick's wife.

"I'm just too scared to watch," she said, "especially when he can win the round."

The best-known secret in town is the SSSSSS gimmick the Jaycees plan to use for their Fair — if they can find a legal way.

Visitor in town today: F. G. Brander, publisher of Maclean's — which, incidentally, features in its current issue an entertaining profile of Premier Bennett by Ralph Allen.

Local writer James K. Nesbitt challenges the panel on "Live a Borrowed Life" tonight at 8.30. Jim's insistence that nobody really knows the birthplace of Governor James Douglas confounded the CBC research department — which gave him two birthplaces, Scotland and the British West Indies.

Premier Bennett's gleeful comment that he enjoyed politics as most men enjoyed golf brought this crack from a Liberal citizen Saturday.

"I don't wonder — he makes up the par as he goes along."

At a private party held in the Chez Marcel on Saturday evening one of the city's bilingual residents approached the bar and ordered a drink. "Scotch, sir?" enquired the barman. "No," came the reply, "French-Canadian!"

Lawyer Thomas Foster Isherwood made it plain in a recent campaign letter that he will battle Major General Foulkes for the Liberal nomination on the issue of nuclear warheads for Canada. They go to the ramparts tonight.

HERE'S THE ANSWER TO BRIDGE PROBLEM

For the bridge aficionados here's the answer to the problem concocted by Keith Stapleton, 70 Cambridge.

NORTH		EAST
♠	9 7 5	♠	J 10 3 2
♥	Q 9 6	♥	10
♦	Q 10 5 4	♦	K J 3 2
♣	A Q	♣	K J 10 4
WEST		SOUTH
♠	8	♠	A K 6 4
♥	8 5 2	♥	A K J 7 4 3
♦	9 8 7 6	♦	A
♣	9 8 7 6 5	♣	3 2

The bid is seven hearts. South is the declarer. West opens the two of hearts.

Following is the play at each trick:

- West opens with the 2 of hearts. North takes with the Q, and east plays his single 10. South covers with the 5.
- North leads the 9 of spades. East goes up with the J. South takes with the ace, and West plays his singleton 4.
- South leads the ace of diamonds. West plays the 6, North the 4, and East the 2.
- South leads the 4 of hearts, taking the trick in dummy with whichever heart is necessary. East shifts the 4 of clubs.
- North leads the Q of diamonds, forcing East to lay down his K. South ruffs with the 4 of hearts, and West plays the 7.
- South leads the 3 of hearts, forcing West to release his remaining trump, which dummy takes, and East shifts another small club.
- North leads the 5 of spades. East plays the 10 and South takes the trick with his K, leaving West to shift a small club.
- South leads the king of hearts. West discards another small club, giving North the opportunity to set the 7 of the queen of clubs. East would probably shift a small spade.
- South leads the 6 of spades to dummy's queen, with West throwing away another club, and East playing his last spade.
- North then leads the 3 of spades, which is good.
- 10 to 13: Here is where a good deal of concentration is needed. Dummy's next lead must be controlled by the cards discarded by East and West on the 10th trick. For example: If both East and West discarded diamonds he would then lead a diamond to the ace of trumps, come back with a small club to the ace of clubs, and then claim the final diamond trick. However should East and West both discard clubs he would then play the ace of clubs, and then a diamond to the ace of hearts, leaving his remaining club good for the final trick. Should however, East discard a diamond and West a club or vice-versa he leads either the 3 or the 10 of diamonds depending on which is necessary to force the Jack from east's hand and the outcome is the same.

Canadian Railway Strike Averted

MONTREAL (CP) — A walk-out against the CNR and the CPR was averted early today when the railways and their 4,500 engineers reached agreement on new labor contracts.

The agreement, one week before the strike was to start, was announced by railway and union negotiators after 23 hours of weekend bargaining.

Details of the agreement were promised later. It was reported, however, to have included acceptance by the independent union of a 6½-per cent wage increase recommended on both carriers by federal conciliation boards, and implemented by the railways Jan. 1.

SAVAGE DOGS KILLED ON TRISTAN DE CUNHA

LONDON (Reuters) — The household dogs left behind on volcano-ravaged Tristan da Cunha quickly turned into savage killers, a Royal Society expedition to the remote island reported today.

The 15 dogs abandoned last October by the 262 departing islanders apparently killed about 700 sheep, the scientists said.

Hunting in packs of five, the dogs drove sheep over cliffs and gulches into the sea. They also killed newly-born calves and attacked smaller calves of the herd.

"Although regrettable, it was considered necessary to destroy the dogs, and all have been shot," the scientists said in a report to London.

nearby buildings.

WOMEN FALL SCREAMING

The crowd included many women who fell screaming under the hail of bullets.

The police fired an initial volley over the heads of the demonstrators but the second cut right through their ranks.

The volley sent demonstrators dashing for safety up side streets.

Europeans returned the police fire with a hail of sniper fire from balconies and rooftops.

The demonstration was staged in response to a call from the Secret Army Organization for a mass protest against the blockading of suburban Bab-el-Queid, a terrorist stronghold.

Gunfire also rattled over the heads of thousands of French settlers assembled on the Algiers waterfront.

TAKE UP POSITIONS

Steel-helmeted French troops took up positions in the heart of the city with orders to bar the passage of crowds.

Minutes after the firing started, a crowd of several hundred settlers still occupied the waterfront boulevard waving French flags.

A paralyzing general strike gripped Algiers shortly after the settlers began to mass.

The centre of the city around the monument to the war dead was sealed off by trucks and armored cars. French infantrymen deployed along the streets.

Ten minutes after the shooting started on Boulevard Carnot, several hundred riot police entered the area and pushed the demonstrating Europeans into the adjacent small streets. Helicopters hovered over the city and ambulances sped through streets.

Accidents Kill Four On Mainland

From CP Dispatches

VANCOUVER — A young soldier on leave and a teenage girl were killed Sunday when their small foreign car collided with another vehicle which crossed the centre line into their path on the upper levels highway in North Vancouver.

Dead are John Dennison Hall, 20, of North Vancouver, a soldier at the Esquimalt army base, and Joanne Bietrich, 16, of North Vancouver.

A third occupant of the car, Charles Thomas Mishaud, 21, of North Vancouver, was in critical condition in hospital.

CAR OVER BANK

HANEY — Garry Louis Scamania, of HMCS Aldergrove in nearby Matsqui, was killed Sunday when his car left the Lougheed Highway on a curve and crashed over a bank five miles south of here.

A passenger, George Zmurek, 19, of Abbotsford, was taken to hospital with internal injuries.

PARENTS CHIDED

VERNON — Warden Hugh Christie of Oakalla prison, said Saturday night parents and the rapid disappearance of the "old-fashioned big family and religion" are to blame for juvenile delinquency that could cost British Columbians $3,000,000 next year.

He said parents are placing more temptations before their children and not providing the necessary wealth of recreational activity to command their interests.

Mr. Christie, who has served at the Burnaby prison for 10 years, said every adult should be making contact with young persons through various youth organizations.

LITTLE BITTERNESS

NELSON — "No meeting today. Everybody in jail. How can you have a meeting if everybody is in jail?"

The obvious over-exaggeration by a member of the Sons of Freedom Doukhobor sect, which was greeted by the moderate laughter of his friends, seemed to typify the reaction of the sect to the mass arrest of their leaders during the weekend.

A reporter who toured the Freedomite capital of Krestova and watched friends and relatives gather outside a jail in Nelson Sunday said he found little bitterness.

Film Company Sued

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Juliet Prowse, accusing 20th Century-Fox of breach of contract, is seeking $51,000 she claims has been improperly withheld by the movie studio. Miss Prowse says 20th Century hasn't honored two provisions in her contract. She said one calls for her services 40 weeks a year and the other permits her to appear in media other than movies.

IGNORES CALL TO RESIGN

Frondizi Forms New Cabinet

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — President Arturo Frondizi swore in a new cabinet today, the ninth day of Argentina's political crisis. Old and new cabinets applauded him as he manoeuvred to hold the reins of power in a struggle with military chiefs. Army and air force secretaries were present at the swearing-in ceremony. The navy was represented by an under-secretary. The navy secretary quit Sunday.

Disregarding the storm cloud, Frondizi ignored demands that he resign and moved immediately with his new cabinet to work anew on his austerity development program for Argentina.

Guards at government house wore battle dress, machine-guns were mounted on the building, and security checks were tightened in the area.

The precautions were taken apparently to forestall a sudden coup by admirals and some army generals reported to be determined to get Frondizi out.

Maj. Gen. Pedro Aramburu, champion of democratic government and the country's military ruler after the ouster of dictator Juan Peron, enlisted the support of much of the army high command in stalling off a showdown after the navy publicly called on Frondizi to resign Sunday night.

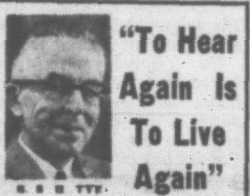

Aramburu, hero of the revolt that overthrew Peron in 1955, pleaded for more time to work

Darts Record Claimed

MIDDLESBROUGH (AP) — Eight determined darts players labored through a marathon match and claimed a world record Sunday. They scored 1,000,001 points in 17 hours and 26 minutes, an hour and 19 minutes faster than the mark set three weeks ago by an army team. Darts is a traditional part of pub life in Britain. But the marathon was staged in the foyer of a local cinema watched by about 150 persons.

B.C. Goods On Show For U.S.

By VICTOR MACKIE
Times Ottawa Correspondent
OTTAWA — Plans of buyers from Los Angeles, San Diego, San Francisco and Seattle will be flown into Vancouver to attend sample shows that will be set up for a two-day period this summer, trade officials said here Saturday.

Federal officials will confer shortly with British Columbia authorities on details of the proposed buying mission from the United States.

The federal plan is being formulated in co-operation with the British Columbia industrial development, trade and commerce department.

This new step in sales promotion stems from the export trade promotion conference held in Ottawa in December, 1960, and the series of 12 regional trade and industrial promotion conferences held in each of the provinces in 1961 and 1962.

LOGICAL STEP

The proposed program was discussed by senior officers of the federal trade department with the heads of Canada's eight offices of the trade commissioner service covering the United States at a recent four-day meeting. It was welcomed as the next logical step in the trade promotion drive.

The British Columbia government is co-operating in transporting buyers from the west coast of the United States, right into Vancouver, where British Columbia manufacturers can display their wares at a showman's similar shows are to be organized in Winnipeg, Montreal and Toronto and later in other Canadian centres.

Canadian government trade commissioners in the U.S. have been for several months working on a survey in their respective territories to determine which products of Canadian origin can be sold most effectively in the U.S. by embarking on a promotion campaign of this type.

LITTLE KNOWLEDGE

They have reported that there is a lot of goodwill for Canada but, despite their efforts in co-operation with individual firms, the knowledge of Canadian consumer products is small.

As the trade commissioners have a wealth of information on prospective purchasers and have established many useful connections with individual buyers, they are qualified to recommend which firms should be invited to participate in the buying missions to Winnipeg and the other cities. They and the commodity officers in Ottawa also know which Canadian firms have displayed an interest in the American market, either through visits to their territories.

The buying missions will complement the trade missions that Canada is sending this year to Britain, the United States, continental Europe, Australia, New Zealand, Latin America and the Middle East.

Negotiator For U.K. Due In Ottawa

By VICTOR MACKIE
Times Ottawa Correspondent
OTTAWA — Britain's key man at the Brussels negotiations on the European Common Market, Edward Heath, Lord Privy Seal, was scheduled to arrive in Ottawa Saturday afternoon for two days of talks with members of the Canadian government.

Mr. Heath's visit is designed to keep the Canadian government completely informed on the progress of the United Kingdom's moves for admission to the European Economic Community.

Canada like other countries of the Commonwealth is facing two areas of uncertainty: First, what might the U.K. membership in the EEC imply for the future of Canada's trade and economic relations with Britain, and second, what could be the political and economic effects of such membership on the Commonwealth association itself.

The cabinet is reported to have received a long and detailed report from Hon. George Drew, Canadian High Commissioner in London, on the talks which Mr. Drew and other Commonwealth high commissioners had last week with Mr. Heath.

There have been suggestions here that members of the British cabinet might play host to their Commonwealth counterparts as a prelude to a Commonwealth prime ministers' meeting. Prime Minister Diefenbaker has been pressing for a prime ministers' conference to be held before the U.K. makes any final decisions to join the common market.

Old Capital Found

TOKYO (AP)—Communist China has reported discovery of the capital of the emperor Chin Shih Huang-ti, builder of the Great Wall, about four miles from the modern city of Sian in Shensi province.

THREE-WHEELED car was designed and built by Jerry Woodward, Provo, Utah, for use on electronic roads of future. It has been tested at 150 miles per hour on Utah salt flats and was first seen by public at 14th Grand National Roadster Show in Oakland, Calif.

WEEK ON MARKETS: Losing Sessions Reduced Daily Trading Average

By PETER DUNN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

After going through four successive losing sessions last week, the stock market gave a mild show of strength Friday.

Industrials slipped steadily all week until the trend was reversed by the index's gain of more than one point. Overall, however, industrials dropped more than three index points.

Volumes shrank with the downward movement of prices. For the first time this year, daily totals averaged less than 3,000,000 shares.

Construction issues retained their recent strength, with most activity focussing on Foundation Co. of Canada Ltd. Last week, an anonymous purchaser, in a bid to gain control of the company, offered to buy 42 per cent of all outstanding shares at $14.75 each—more than the stock has sold for since 1959.

In a letter to shareholders, President J. L. McGowan solicited proxies, attempting to thwart the mystery bid.

Meanwhile, National Trust Co., acting on behalf of the would-be purchaser said all shares deposited under the offer are being taken up and paid for. The offer will remain open at the bidder's discretion, National Trust added.

Foundation stock rose almost $1 to $14 over the week.

Steels recovered slightly from the previous week, but although most stock in the group rose, the price changes were modest. Dominion Bridge added almost $1 to $23.50. Atlas Steel gained 25 cents to $32.37. Steel Company of Canada failed to go along with the rest, remaining unchanged at $35.50.

Refining oils and associated pipeline issues were lower on average, with Alberta Gas Trunk A leading the way down. The stock closed at a 1962 low, $33 down $1.62. Trans-Prairie Pipelines dropped $1.25 to $36.50. It had risen in recent weeks after an announcement that the company proposed a five-for-one stock split.

BA Oil hit a year's low of $34.25 in mid-week and closed at $34.62, down slightly. Trans-Canada Pipe Line fell almost $1 to $24.62.

Most other industrial groups were steady with new highlights.

NICKEL DROPS

Senior base metals were weaker. International Nickel showed the sharpest drop; it closed at $82.50, down $3. Falls on bridge fell $1.50 to $39. Ventures struck a 1962 low of $38.62.

WEEK IN BUSINESS

Prosperity Depends On Buyer

NEW YORK (AP)—The U.S. consumer holds the answer to whether 1962 is going to be a moderately good business year, good or excellent.

This became apparent last week as the first quarter of the year neared an end with the economic scales still teetering.

Business didn't live up to expectations in January and February.

But a survey by the University of Michigan Research Centre indicates that the consumer is optimistic about the outlook and is in the mood to buy durable goods during the next six to nine months.

The big question is whether the man-in-the-street will translate this mood into action and open up his wallet.

That many already have turned plans into purchases is reflected by the good rate of automobile sales so far this year.

CAR OUTPUT UP

And the automakers, considering their rate of production, seem convinced that the level of buying is going to continue. Output last week was an estimated 140,000 compared with 135,706 last week and only 87,334 a year ago.

So far this year the industry has built more than 1,500,000 cars, an increase of about 50 per cent over the corresponding period last year.

Department store sales from Jan. 1 to March 17 showed a 3 per cent gain over the corresponding period of last year, the Federal Reserve Board reported. The National Retail Merchants' Association predicted a 5 per cent gain for March and April.

There were a couple of price moves last week but they didn't indicate any trend.

CUT PRICES

General Motors Corporation's Frigidaire division cut factory prices on three refrigerator-freezer models by $6, $25 and $45. General Electric Company reduced its whole-sale prices on two models. Westinghouse Electric Corporation said it would be competitive.

The price of nylon tricot, a knitted fabric used in women's lingerie and other garments, generally is being increased three to five per cent.

Steel production last week posted a gain for the second consecutive week, totaling 2,387,000 tons, up 0.8 per cent from the previous week.

A Maritime strike tied up a big segment of Pacific coast shipping. The labor department said the strike's impact has hurt the west coast economy and "seriously endangered" the State of Hawaii. Rationing began in Hawaii, which depends on shipping for its staples.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Current Slump Hits Industrials

The stock market today returned to its trend of last week by going into a decline, with industrial losses far outnumbering gains.

AT TORONTO Federal Grain was down 3 1/2 at 53. Imperial Life was down one point. Imperial Tobacco and Building Products % and Aluminium %.

Among base metals Falconbridge gained 1/4 at 59 1/2 and Hudson Bay was ahead 1/2. In speculative Lake Dufault was down five cents at $5.20. Northgate advanced 10 cents at $6.30.

Fractional gains by senior western oils accounted for the advance on that board. Dome, Great Plains Development and Home A and B were all up 1/4.

AT NEW YORK American Tobacco, Reynolds, and Liggett and Myers, upset by new attacks in Britain against cigarette smoking, all dropped 3 points or more while Lorillard fell more than 2 and Philip Morris about 5.

Canadian losers included McIntyre Porcupine, off 1/2, Distillers Seagrams and Granby Mining, off 1/4, and Dome Mines, down 1/4. Canadian Pacific was up 1/4 and Walker-Gooderham 1/4.

AT MONTREAL with the exception of Consolidated Paper, up 1/4 at 42 1/2, papers were sharply lower. Donohue Brothers fell a point to 25. Abitibi lost 1/4 to 45 1/2, and MacMillan was off 1/4 at 19 1/2. Aluminium dropped 1/2 to 28.

FORD MOTOR BONUSES CHOPPED $667,000

DETROIT (AP)—Salaries and bonuses of Ford Motor Co. officers and directors were $634,380 less last year than in 1960, it was disclosed today.

Salaries were increased $32,620 but bonuses were chopped $667,000. The figures were contained in the preliminary prospectus issued in connection with the proposed sale of additional Ford stock by the Ford Foundation.

John Dykstra, named president during the year, was the biggest gainer financially. His salary was increased from $135,000 to $165,000 and his bonus rose from $240,000 to $260,000.

Henry Ford II, the chairman, remained the highest paid officer. His salary was increased by $12,500 to $200,000 but his bonus dropped $15,000 to $260,000.

Competition Cuts Aluminum Profits

MONTREAL (CP)—Severe competition and surplus capacity continue in the aluminum industry, Nathaniel V. Davis, president, says in the annual report on Aluminium Ltd.

As reported earlier, net income in 1961 was $30,609,380, or $1 a share, compared with $39,109,762 and $1.28 a share in 1960. Sales and operating revenue were $516,900,000, compared with $508,600,000.

Sales figures reflect a larger proportion of sales in higher-valued products. Tonnage was down to 663,600 tons from 705,100.

Aluminium Company of Canada Ltd., whose figures are consolidated with its parent, had net earnings of $21,600,000 compared with $27,600,000. Sales and operating revenue were $350,700,000, compared with $347,700,000, while tonnage was 549,000 tons compared with 637,800.

BOOSTING SALES

Mr. Davis said much is being done by the company and others in the industry to contribute to growth in consumption through sales development activities and by adding fabricating facilities. He added that this activity "and our confidence in the future are reflected in planned fixed capital outlays and investments of $80,000,000 in 1962 compared with $79,000,000 in 1961."

Comparison of earnings of both companies for the two years, the report states, must take into account the fact that 1960 after-tax earnings benefited from non-recurring factors and that 1961 earnings suffered from an after-tax loss of nearly $2,000,000 caused by the shutdown at Kitimat, B.C., to enable repairs to the Keston tunnel.

So far in 1962 the company's sales of ingot products have increased in the Americas but declined in other areas, particularly Europe. Sales of semi-fabricated products have continued to expand gradually.

PACKARD NAME TO VANISH?

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Studebaker-Packard Corp. asked its stockholders today to approve a change in the name of the company to Studebaker Corp.

A vote will be taken at the company's annual meeting here April 26.

Studebaker-Packard Corp. was formed in 1954 by the merger of the Packard Motor Car Co. and Studebaker Corp. The last Packard cars were built in 1958.

TODAY'S GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP)—Fairly aggressive demand was evident in flax towards the close of moderate trading today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

Buying in flax was attributed generally to United States interests influenced by the uneasy political situation in Argentina, indirectly connected with the flax movement there.

Oats, barley and rye disclosed routine domestic shipping orders and prices on all commodities moved in a narrow range.

Class two, IWA and domestic wheat prices, basis Lakehead, were all up 1/4 from Friday's close.

Most leading industrials improved and tobacco were somewhat steadier after Friday's sharp fall, but initial small gains were not fully held.

West African mining issues were depressed by Kwame Nkrumah's ruling that foreign firms must reinvest 60 per cent of the net profits in Ghana. Tins were weak on the revelation of the size of the United States tin surplus. Golds and coppers eased in quiet trading.

AT VANCOUVER, trading was quiet, with little change in prices during the morning. Peso moved at $1.11. Bethlehem Copper went to $2.30. Cowichan Copper traded at $5.95. Granducue was down at $2.85. Kamloops Copper was at 28. Indian Mines moved at 23. Torwest was at $9. Western Mines was up at $2.20. Mt. Washington Copper was between $1.46 and $1.50. Massey-Ferguson sold at $13.

CHICAGO (AP)—The grain futures market was draggy and easier most of the time today on the Board of Trade.

DAMAGE WAS HEAVY to city prowler car in a two-car collision at Bay and Quadra Streets Saturday afternoon. Officer at car-door is Cons. Russell Redman, the driver at the time of the mishap. Police identified the driver of the second vehicle involved as Gerald Goesbriano, 1916 Davie. This was one of the first of a string of street collisions that kept police busy over the weekend.

City Prowler Car in Crash As Wet Streets Take Toll

A rash of accidents Saturday and Sunday sent several persons to hospital with minor injuries and kept police hopping all over the city.

Majority of the injuries occurred Saturday night or early Sunday when roads were still greasy after several hours rain.

On Saturday afternoon John F. Bowers, of 3485 Seymour, was treated for abrasions and shock at St. Joseph's Hospital after his car collided with one driven by Donald Charlie of Koksilah at Bay and Government. Mr. Bowers was released after treatment.

At 2:45 p.m. city police Cons. Russell Redman, 1037 Fern, was treated at Royal Jubilee Hospital for knee abrasions following a collision between his prowler car and a car driven by Gerald Goesbriano, 1916 Davie.

Police said the prowler car was heading south on Quadra and the other west on Bay when the collision occurred. Both vehicles were heavily damaged.

Three more collisions followed in quick succession after midnight.

A car driven north on Blanshard by Dixon Longstaff, 536 Hillside, collided with a parked car, went out of control, and then struck a car being driven south on Blanshard by Quin Cok Lowe, 2317 Blanshard.

Mr. Lowe, Michael Lum and Brian Chong, also of 2317 Blanshard, were taken to St. Joseph's Hospital and treated for cuts and bruises.

Saanich police reported that at about 1 a.m. a car driven west on Burnside by Robert Craigdallie, 3716 Harriet, collided with the guard rail near the intersection with the Trans-Canada Highway.

Craigdallie and a passenger

Miss Gerry McKay, 1047 Lodge, were admitted to St. Joseph's with facial injuries. Both have now been released. Police estimated damage to the car at $1,000.

A freak accident at 1:45 a.m. Sunday put Edward Lynn Thomas MacKenzie, 3855 Saanich, in St. Joseph's with slight injuries.

WRONG SIDE

City police said Mr. MacKenzie was driving east on Richardson when he was forced to swerve to avoid colliding with a small car being driven on the wrong side of the road.

The swerve, he told police, forced him into a parked car. The small car, containing three girls and carrying Washington licence plates, stopped briefly and then carried on.

HIT AGAIN

As Mr. MacKenzie stood in the roadway at the rear of his car, both he and the vehicle were struck again, this time by a car being driven east by Thomas Kavanagh, 131 Kamloops. There was heavy damage all around, police said.

About $650 total damage resulted when a car driven on Ferndale Road by Dorothy Smith, 1452 Fairfield, collided with the car ahead driven by Richard Jones, 2151 Neil.

A passenger Mrs. Jesse Kenward, 841 Victoria, was admitted to Royal Jubilee Hospital for a few hours.

The accident occurred at 3:20 p.m. Sunday.

HIT BUILDING

Shortly after 9 a.m. today Mrs. Margaret Snyder, 1639 Hampshire, told city police she collided with the side of an apartment building at 1960 Fort.

She said she was turning on to Trent Street from Fort when she heard a door rattling in the car and turned round to warn the three young children in the car.

While she did this her car left the road and struck the building's west wall.

SAANICHTON PRINCESS STARTS TOUR

A five-week tour of eight South American countries starts next Wednesday for Canada's Dairy Princess, Clara Taylor, 2973 McIntyre Road, Saanichton.

The 20-year-old Saanich girl won the trip when she was named the nation's Dairy Princess at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto last September.

Her travelling companion on the tour will be Margaret Sheppy of Sidney, a South Saanich public health nurse.

They will visit Bogota, Colombia, on April 5; Quito, Ecuador, April 8; Lima, Peru, April 10; Santiago, Chile, April 12; Buenos Aires, Argentina, April 16; Montevideo, Uruguay, April 18; Rio de Janeiro, April 19; Caracas, Venezuela, April 22.

From Caracas, Miss Taylor and her escort will fly to Miami, Florida, before returning home via New York and Toronto. They are due back here on May 6.

Roof Rescue Ends in Death

A 69-year-old city man was rescued by firemen from the roof of a Pandora Avenue apartment building where he had suffered a stroke Saturday evening—only to die in hospital a few hours later.

George Carr was apparently taken ill while repairing a television aerial on the roof of Venture Apartments, 735 Pandora, where he was caretaker. He was believed to have been unconscious on the roof for at least two hours after suffering a stroke.

An aerial ladder crew and an inhaler crew from the city fire department carried out the rescue. They strapped the unconscious man to a stretcher and lowered him 50 feet to the ground.

He died in St. Joseph's Hospital on Sunday.

4-H Club Director Going To New Post in Rangoon

B.C.'s farm organization for young people will lose its popular director at the end of the month.

Rod C. Bailey has resigned as B.C. supervisor of 4-H clubs to take up a position in Rangoon, Burma, under the Food and Agricultural Organization of United Nations.

He will leave Victoria on April 1.

Before taking over 4-H work in the province two years ago, the 33-year-old agriculturist served as a technician under the Canadian Colombo Plan in Thailand.

His new job will be assisting the Burmese department of agriculture in extension work. He will be away for a period not exceeding two years. His wife and two children will accompany him.

A graduate of the University of British Columbia, Mr. Bailey is formerly of Okotoks, Alberta.

Appointment of a new supervisor of 4-H clubs has not yet been announced by the government.

MP Lashes Socreds For 'Abuse of Power'

Knives Used By Thugs In Holdups

'I'm Desperate — I Need Money'

Two Victorians reported to city police Saturday night they had been held up at knife-point in the downtown area.

Reginald Dove, 594 Tait, told police he was robbed of his wallet containing $4 and his wrist watch by two men at Langley and Bastion at about 8:45 p.m.

He said he was grabbed around the neck from behind and told: "Give me your wallet. I have a knife at your back."

Another man appeared in front of him, grabbed his wallet and wrist watch and then both men fled.

'I'M DESPERATE'

An hour and a half later James Kirtton, 859 Cormorant, said he was grabbed from behind. At first he thought it was a joke by a friend but then his assailant said: "I have a knife, drop your wallet. I'm desperate — I need money."

Mr. Kirtton said he told the youth he was getting himself into trouble and eventually persuaded him to go away.

City police could not say whether the incidents were connected.

Man, Wife Die Within 15 Hours

A man and his wife who died within 15 hours of one another will be buried together on Tuesday.

Mrs. Winnifred Elsie Harding died on Saturday in St. Mary's Priory, Langford. John Harding followed his wife 15 hours later, dying at the Veterans' Hospital. Both had entered hospital at the same time seven weeks ago.

Mr. Harding, 82, was born in England and had been a resident of Victoria since 1912. He was a city employee with the Victoria waterworks department.

LIVED AT SOOKE

Mrs. Harding, his second wife, also was born in England, coming to Victoria in 1944. She was 74. They made their home in Sooke.

Mr. Harding fought in the Boer War with the 66th Royal Berkshire regiment. He was a member of the Over 60 club and the Canadian Legion of Sooke.

Mrs. Harding was active in Sea Cadet work.

Surviving are his three sons William and Frank in Victoria and John in Halifax, and a daughter Ellen Lawson of the Northwest Territories. There are 10 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

The double funeral will take place on Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. at McCall Bros' Funeral Chapel, Rev. Douglas Kendall officiating. Interment will follow in Colwood Burial Park.

TRAFFIC FINES

In city police court today: Samuel Hewson, 1485 Finlayson, careless driving, $50 and licence suspended.

Bride Jailed Just Before Wedding Day

A 22-year-old woman, released from prison just a month ago, and due to be married at 1:30 p.m. today, was arrested by police over the weekend on a fraud charge. Lorene Ranns, no fixed address, pleaded guilty in city police court today to uttering a forged cheque at a Yates Street dress shop in September, 1960.

City detective William Andrews told the court that Ranns had presented a cheque for $147 at the dress shop in payment for a $30 coat and collected the remainder in change.

"She tells me she is sorry she didn't tell the police the last time she was in custody," the detective said.

"She says she is also sorry because she was due to get married at 1:30 today," he said.

Prosecutor Angus Smith told Magistrate William Ostler "the last time" referred to by Det. Andrews was in November last year when Ranns was sentenced to four months in prison for robbery with violence.

Magistrate Ostler remanded her to Thursday for probation report and sentence.

Bill 85 Immoral —Hellyer

A federal Member of Parliament today branded B.C.'s new power legislation as "quite immoral."

Paul Hellyer, Liberal MP for Trinity, and former associate defence minister, said it was the sort of action that should make a government fall.

Mr. Hellyer, here for a Liberal nominating convention, was commenting on Bill 85, now before the provincial legislature, which would ban any court action on the compensation paid by B.C. for the B.C. Electric.

The legislation would be retroactive, wiping out a court case already in process.

'ABUSE OF POWER'

"To use retroactive legislation to take away the rights of people is an abuse of power—an abuse of the legislative process," said Mr. Hellyer.

"It is changing the rules of the game part way through the game, and this to me is the offensive part of it."

Mr. Hellyer said there has been other legislation in other provinces which has been flagrant.

"What I fear most is that it's getting to be a habit. Although what's being done here is an extreme case."

Mr. Hellyer said the only way a government can be prevented from such action is "by the people rising up in righteous anger."

Home Shelter Aid Proposed

Turning to world affairs, Mr. Hellyer said if the cold war continues unchecked much longer, Canada's national government should launch a program of financial assistance for home-fall-out shelters.

Mr. Hellyer said the government in Ottawa—whether Conservative or Liberal—will have to face this decision soon.

It would have to be a national program of financial support to persons building shelters.

Mr. Hellyer roared the Conservatives for refusing to make a decision on acquiring nuclear weapons for Canadian forces.

COMPROMISED

Canada's position had been compromised, he said, by a half-hearted program started last year to provide an aircraft strike force of F-101 aircraft for NATO in Europe.

And yet the Conservative government still has not told NATO if it will allow these aircraft to be equipped with nuclear weapons.

Mr. Hellyer said that now there are only two possible courses:

To equip the European-based aircraft with nuclear weapons but to refuse to allow them on Canadian soil;

Or to give the strike force to the U.S. outright and start over again building a non-nuclear Canadian force.

ASK THE TIMES

Q What was the French Hospital in Victoria? E. M.

A In 1860 the French Hospital was opened by the French Benevolent and Mutual Aid Society to care for its members. It was later merged into the Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Q I think that the carving of the three monkeys, one covering his eyes, one his ears, and the other his mouth, are well known to everyone. Could you tell me if this symbol is known by any particular name? M. A. S.

A In English they are known as the simian trinity, symbolizing a warning for mankind to stay away from worldly evils. In Japanese the three monkeys are called: Mikazaru (do not see), Kikazaru (do not hear), Yawazaru (do not speak). The original carvings may be seen at a temple in Nikko, Japan.

NATIONAL Social Credit Leader Robert Thompson will visit Victoria for a rest April 1 after meetings in Kamloops, March 29; Vancouver and New Westminster, March 30, and Nanaimo, March 31. From Victoria Mr. Thompson will go to Penikese and Trail, April 2.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

A meeting of the Belmont Association—scheduled for tonight at 7:30 has been postponed a week and will be held at the same time April 2 in the school auditorium.

Entertainment will feature the student senior band, a choral group and a gymnastic and tumbling display.

A meeting of the PPCL Association will be held Friday at 8 p.m. in the Sergeants Mess.

Guest speaker, Sgt. Len Smith, will discuss public relations, and films will be shown.

The former Assistant Under-Secretary of State for External Affairs, Professor Douglas LePan, will address the Victoria Branch of the Humanities Association on April 4.

He will give a public lecture on "Some Thoughts About Poetry and the Future." The meeting will take place at 8:15 p.m. in the auditorium of the Young Building, Victoria College campus.

Former Owner Of Fuel Firm Dies in South

Victoria businessman William Alfred Cameron, 67, died on Saturday in his winter home at Palm Desert, California.

He had been in poor health for two years.

Mr. Cameron first came to Victoria in 1907 with his family from New Mexico.

His father began a lumber business and sent his sons to Victoria High and then private school. W. A. Cameron in Tennessee.

Returning from the States W. A. (Bill) Cameron went into business, organizing the Cameron Wood and Coal Company.

He managed this until the company was sold in 1946.

Surviving are the widow, Hilma; three brothers, James and George, Victoria, and Don of Hollywood, California, a son Bill in San Francisco, and a daughter, Mrs. Justin Harbord, Victoria.

Funeral services and interment will be in Palm Desert.

Bennett to Meet Fleming Thursday

Premier Bennett said this afternoon he plans to meet federal Finance Minister Donald Fleming Thursday to discuss the Columbia River project.

Mr. Fleming will be in Vancouver to address a meeting of chartered accountants. After speaking to him on the telephone Mr. Bennett said either he will fly to Vancouver or Mr. Fleming will fly here for their talks.

Newsweek Settles Suit With Teamster

DETROIT (AP)—Teamster official William E. Bufalino and Newsweek Magazine today announced an out-of-court cash settlement of Bufalino's $1,000,000 libel suit against the publication.

Ottawa Studies BCE Takeover Law

OTTAWA (CP)—The Justice department is examining British Columbia legislation related to expropriation of B.C. Electric to see whether it contravenes the Bill of Rights, Justice Minister Fulton indicated this afternoon.

He was replying to H.W. Herdridge, parliamentary leader of the CCF-NDP group, who asked whether study is being given to possible contravention of the Bill of Rights by a provision in the B.C. legislation forbidding recourse to the courts against expropriation of the company.

PM Keeping Mum on Date of Budget

OTTAWA (CP)—The government still isn't tipping its hand on the date of Finance Minister Fleming's budget speech.

The budget "will receive the attention of the House in due course," Prime Minister Diefenbaker told the Commons today in reply to Opposition Leader Pearson who asked whether it would come before Easter.

Canadian Plan for Neutrals Doomed

GENEVA (CP)—Opposition from Russia appeared tonight to have killed a Canadian proposal aimed at associating neutral countries with the Big Three nuclear test talks.

External Affairs Minister Howard Green told reporters he had learned through informal contacts that the Russians do not want the non-aligned nations to sit in on the test-ban talks.

THE ROCKET:

'Hull Won't Be Last To Score 50'

See page 12.

MONTREAL (CP)—Maurice (Rocket) Richard, retired Montreal Canadiens' great, said today he is convinced Chicago's Bobby Hull won't be the last player to score at least 50 goals in a National Hockey League season.

"One of these years, somebody may get as many as 55," Richard said. "But I doubt if it'll be possible to do better than that."

Richard was the first man to ever score 50 goals in a season—doing so in 1944-45 during a 50-game schedule. Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion, also of Canadiens, equalled the feat in 1960-61 and Hull got his 50th goal in Chicago's final game of the 1961-62 schedule which ended Sunday night. Geoffrion and Hull both played in 70 game slates.

Richard said he has but one wish—that his 50-goal mark in as many games always remains in the league's record books.

"Hull is the type of an athlete who could break many records," Richard added. "He possesses everything—physique, skating ability, shot and hockey instinct."

Geoffrion said: "You have to have a good streak and a lot of luck to get that many goals. I don't think it will happen again, not for a long time anyway."

Three Appeals Dismissed

VANCOUVER (CP)—The British Columbia Power Corporation won more preliminary skirmishes today in pretrial issues arising from its court case against expropriation of the B.C. Electric Company.

The court dismissed three BCE appeals against Supreme Court decisions affecting the case.

The court then went into consideration of a BCE appeal against the Supreme Court order of last week which placed a receiver to guard the assets of the company pending the outcome of the court cases.

The appeal court unanimously rejected a BCE appeal against a Supreme Court order giving the Power Corporation, parent of the BCE until the government expropriated it last August, access to BCE property for valuation purposes.

A majority of the court rejected an appeal against an order to hand over certain documents to the power corporation for trial purposes and turned down a BCE claim that a portion of the corporation's statement of claim should be stricken.

WILSON DISSENTS

Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson dissented on these two points.

The corporation has yet to lose an appeal against a court order concerned with the trial. In the court action, slated to start next month, the corporation is asking the Supreme Court to declare the takeover legislation invalid.

It asks the court to set compensation for the BCE should it find the takeover legal.

The government paid the corporation $111,000,000 for 3,000,000 BCE common shares last year. Under new legislation before the legislature the figure would be increased by $69,000,000.

The new legislation withdrawing an offer contained in the August takeover bill to pay the power corporation $68,000,000—$38 a share—for its assets.

The Appeal Court decisions were handed down by Chief Justice A. C. Des Brisay, Mr. Justice F. A. Sheppard and Mr. Justice Wilson were the other members of the court.

French Catch Secret Army's No. 2 Man

(Times News Services)

ALGIERS—France dealt a severe blow to the die-hard advocates of the "French Algeria" today with the announcement that the number two man of the Secret Army Organization had been arrested in Oran.

The capture Sunday of Edmond Jouhaud, 56-year-old former air force general, was announced only after he was safely inside the gates of Sainte prison in Paris. The secret army made a last-minute attempt to free him by attacking the barracks in Oran where he was first held.

Jouhaud was believed to have spent most of his time in Oran, a hotbed of "French Algeria" sentiment, since the abortive military coup in Algiers in April, 1961.

Jouhaud was sentenced to death in absentia last summer for his part in the coup. Also sentenced to death for the vain plot was former General Raoul Salan, leader of the Secret Army and still at large somewhere in Algeria.

Trapped in Waterfront Building

Jouhaud and his staff were trapped in a building on the waterfront that had been under surveillance for some time. The house had been searched previously but without success.

The captives were transferred to a gendarmerie barracks. Minutes later a strong Secret Army commando group attacked the barracks. The French forces repelled the attack. One gendarme officer was killed and 18 gendarmes were wounded in the fighting.

Mebbe we'd lend th' RCMP t' th' Algerians t' clean up their problem too.

European Rioters Shot Down

(Times News Services)
CP from Reuters-AP

ALGIERS—At least 50 persons were killed and about 186 wounded today when French security forces machine-gunned European demonstrators who charged a police barricade in downtown Algiers.

One member of the security forces was killed and five were injured by fire from terrorist snipers.

The toll in dead and injured was announced by hospital officials dealing with the casualties, brought in by ambulance and truck after the 30-minute outburst ended.

The victims were cut down by a heavy blast of machine-gun fire from a distance of about 15 yards.

BY JOHN MIKA
Times City Hall Reporter

A potential tax increase of 10 mills resulting from proposed expenditure increases of almost $1,000,000 faced City Council.

A big chunk of the increase is expected to survive although aldermen will chop frantically at the budget estimates and probably receive some help by a few offsetting revenue increases.

An initial summary of 1962 estimates presented by city comptroller James Bramley as the preliminary chopping began suggested an almost 20 per cent boost in last year's 53.4 mill rate.

Size of the possible increase is almost double the usual starting point for the annual aldermanic hatchet job on budgetary proposals.

Total proposed budget of $7,316,035 was presented at the start of committee consideration—excluding the social welfare, health and education items which will raise the book figures by at least $3,000,000.

The summary represents an increase of $826,126 over the comparable total set at the end of last year's budget session.

This would make a rise in taxation of 10 mills on the basis computed this year indicating one mill will bring in $92,855 in revenue.

Last year, one mill raised $94,800.

Assessment Down $1.9 Million

The drop in value of the mill is one of the reasons for the potential increase, resulting from the new provincial assessment formula which saw the city's taxable assessment tumble by $1,997,000.

Most of the assessment cut-back was caused by government exemption of B.C. Electric property, B.C. Toll Highway's Authority acquisitions and the B.C. Hydro holdings.

Depending on the size of still unrevealed government grants for B.C. Electric property, the city's cash loss from the assessment drop will range between $25,000 and $129,000.

"So our budget work begins with a big question mark," Mr. Bramley informed finance committee.

Other big items added to the budget estimates are: $120,000 to cover wage increases agreed to by council last week; $100,000 to start off the urban renewal program for north Blaine

Street; $70,000 for a new No. 2 firehall; and $50,000 for the centennial celebration.

Only about $25,000 to $50,000 is expected to be added this year to the 1961 school budget of $2,015,000, representing a fractional increase in the school mill rate of 18.6.

Almost all of any final increase will fall on the general purpose rate which was struck at 34.8 mills last year.

Total increase in the "ordinary" section of the budget—covering primarily maintenance accounts—will be about $263,340 including the $120,000 wage boost.

Bulk of the proposed increases fall within the $995,830 "special" section of the budget, covering new work and services.

Here's where most of the chopping will be done. Last year, council cut back a large proposed program and voted only $408,044 for new projects.

However, this year it will have a harder time trimming the special section because it includes, besides new items already mentioned, a total of $157,946 in grants (mainly for hospital, college and senior citizen build-up funds), and various off-delayed public works.

Rival Union Under Attack By Mine, Mill

TORONTO (CP)—Disruptive practices personified by the United Steelworkers of America threaten organized labor in North America, International President John Clark of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers said today.

Steel and other large unions are showing a progressive decline in membership, Mr. Clark told the opening session of the Mine-Mill convention, coupling a bitter attack on Steel with a defence of his own union.

About 200 representatives of the Canadian and United States membership are meeting in the 57th convention—first in Canada. Mine-Mill claims about 100,000 members in the two countries.

BITTER RIVALS

The union is meeting against a background of intense rivalry in Canada with the Steelworkers who have launched a bid at Sudbury, Ont., the union's largest local, to assume jurisdiction.

Mine-Mill was ousted from the old Congress of Industrial Organizations in the U.S. on grounds of being Communist-dominated and from the old Canadian Congress of Labor on a jurisdictional issue.
